WE NOMINATE

Georgiana Hauck, one of the truly beloved teachers in the Princeton Area and a West Windsor tradition for generations of school-goers, who — to the dismay of fellow teachers, school administrators and admiring youngsters — is quietly retiring from the post she has filled with distinction for over 41 years. It was in 1922, the spring President Warren Harding helped dedicate Princeton Battle Monument and the fall the University was breaking ground for new dormitories along lower University Place, that Miss Hauck, now a remarkably youthful 63, was appointed principal of the tiny Penns Neck School on the corner of U.S. Route One and Alexander Road.

Down through the decades, as the Princeton-West Windsor environs gradually emerged from the cocoon of somnolence and were "caught up" in the onrush of the 1950's, Miss Hauck, first in the 7th and 8th grades and in recent years on the primary level, has "loved every minute of teaching" and has constantly sought to produce what she terms "solid citizens," including a majority of the present members of the West Windsor School Board. One measure of her impact on Princeton was last month's surprise reception at the Penns Neck School, a meticulously planned, tightly held secret which in her honor attracted an outpouring of some 700 persons.

Hired by one of the "real schoolmen of his time," the late Joseph M. Arnold, and trained in New Jersey colleges, Miss Hauck gained her initial experience in rural schools and launched her career at a salary of $90 a month. With a rare affinity for children, and for their enthusiasms and anxieties, Miss Hauck feels that the "best teacher for the early grades is a relaxed woman, or man—although a woman is perhaps better, inasmuch as it's a big step coming from home into a school. A teacher, above all, must love children and she should be soft-spoken but ever firm!"

The reactions of children currently enrolled in West Windsor schools are indicative of the position Miss Hauck holds in her community's heart. One moppet recalled: "she gave us birthday spankings!" With this memory, an entire class smiled, wriggled and waved their hands to tell about their own "personal spankings." Other comments ran like this: "she never yelled at us," or "she was so good to my brother." From the last two children to record their impressions came these evaluations: "We wish she wouldn't retire" and, finally, "She never forgets us."

Miss Hauck, a football enthusiast and proficient in a variety of playground sports ranging from basketball to field hockey, commands the same esteem among her associates. According to one: "I've never heard her raise her voice — the children get the message. A wink, a nod, a mild gesture tells a youngster he should correct, and now, what he's doing." Nor, in the point of view of another: "does she ever hesitate to speak her mind. At teachers' meetings, she'll say, 'Are you thinking this through,' and when we discuss matters with her, she is completely candid." Over the past 11 years, "she has missed exactly two days of class exercises, an index of her devotion to those she teaches."

For understanding that "teaching should be full of ideas and not stuffed only with facts"; for subscribing to the belief that the object of teaching a child is to enable him to get along without his teacher; for endowing "that old school on Route 1" with warmness and light; she is our nominee as

AS IT WAS IN THE BEGINNING: In early April 1897 this is what the "new" Princeton Bank & Trust Co. building looked like — not much different from its appearance today. But on Labor Day weekend the bank will move out, after 68 years, and go to the 70 Nassau Street building now being completed on Palmer Square. For details on this and other impending Princeton business changes, see story, this page.

This Is PRINCETON

. . . WHOSE MOVE IS IT?

Many Firms Plan Shifts. Among the other distinctly seasonal phenomena which come to town in the spring, along with University reunions, briefly white beer jackets, and multi-tented benefits like the Hospital Fete, is what one real estate man calls "Princeton Parcheesi"—in which business organizations jump hither and yon into new office locations. This year, the action is hotter than ever.

Reasons for the 1964 increase in activity are chiefly two: (1) a sizeable number of new organizations moving into Princeton; (2) a marked increase in new office space available. Says Ridgely W. Cook, of Edmund Cook & Co., one of Princeton's largest firms managing commercial building space: "During the past few weeks, an unusually large number of organizations, many of them from out-of-town and many of them nationally known, have been looking for locations here."

"Most have not yet settled on a spot," Mr. Cook adds, "but they undoubtedly will before long. Meanwhile, the traffic in interested lookers is terrific."

Among the firms definitely planning to open offices in Princeton is Knickerbocker Shares Inc., of New York, sponsors of two mutual investment funds with a total value of $18 million. The principals in the organization are two long-time Princeton residents, Karl D. Pettit and son William D. Pettit, both of Ridgeview Road.

Knickerbocker Shares will have its Princeton offices at 4 Nassau Street in the space now occupied by Clark Dodge & Co. Inc., investment brokers. Clark Dodge, in turn, will be moving to 70 Nassau Street, the new building at Nassau and Palmer Square which is owned by Palmer Square Inc.

How to Move A Bank. Biggest move coming up is that of the Princeton Bank & Trust Co., founded in 1834 and since 1896 situated at 14 Nassau Street in that fine, curlicued building Dutch enough in appearance to feel as much at home overlooking the Zuider Zee as it does capping the head of University Place. On Labor Day weekend, the P. B. & T. will transfer, lock, stock and money bags, to new headquarters at 70 Nassau.

By making the trek during that weekend, the bank will be able to shift its location without dropping a check or inconveniencing a depositor. While the bookkeeping department will move temporarily next door to the present building in space leased from the University Store, the bank's main structure is up for sale "as is," according to P. B. & T. President William R. Cosby.

"We've been talking with several interested possible buyers," says Mr. Cosby, "and while there's nothing definite at the moment, nobody is thinking about taking down the building." The beloved, 68-year-old landmark will stay, it seems, and not be replaced by one of those graceless, glass-and-aluminum rectangular boxes which now stand on end all over New York.

Upcoming changes at 20 Nassau Street (one of Princeton's oldest and most serviceable "real" office buildings) are mostly minor. One newcomer of note, new to Princeton as well as to the building, will be Manpower, Inc.

Typists ProTem. Manpower, Inc., a national organization, might more accurately be called Womanpower, Inc. — it supplies temporary clerical and secretarial help, mostly feminine, to firms which get behind in their filing and typing and other commercial housekeeping chores.

Other changes scheduled for 20 Nassau are of the one and two-room variety, according to the building's managers, Edmund Cook & Co. Edith's Corset & Lingerie Shop has recently completed a two-way stretch by doubling its floor space, and headquarters for the Jaycee Football Classic are being readied for kick-off in 20 Nassau, in addition to other comings and goings, says the Cook firm.

New Beehive. The swarm will soon be on at 70 Nassau Street, saffron-hued new bastion guarding the east flank of Palmer Square. Its six floors are already 75% rented, according to PSI President Fred M. Blaicher.

Biggest tenant will be the Princeton Bank & Trust, which will occupy much of the ground floor (including a vault strong enough to withstand the assault of the nimblest banditti or the scrunchiest explosives), a large part of the main floor—on the Nassau Street level, and considerable space on the second floor.

Other ground floor tenants at 70 Nassau, says Mr. Blaicher, will include Walter B. Howe Inc., real estate and insurance specialists in Prince-

When a just-married man makes a Will to protect his wife, he's likely to consider naming her his executor.

The job can't amount to much, he reasons, because his "estate" doesn't amount to much.

But times and financial circumstances change—for other families, and for yours.

Could your wife handle the forty or more steps, the unfamiliar decisions, which may be involved in settling the estate you have today?

Executorship is our business. Make sure your Will still provides the protection you intend. Get together with your attorney and with us.

ton since 1885, moving from 94 Nassau, and Travelex Inc., cruising west from 195 Nassau. Both organizations will be at street level on Palmer Square South.

In company with the bank, the two brokerage firms of Clark Dodge and Laidlaw & Co. will occupy 70 Nassau's main floor. Also taking space on the main deck will be that epicure's epicenter, the Nassau Delicatessen, which has been dispensing its excellent Brie, spisbroed and other victuals from 45 Palmer Square West since 1938.

Coming across Palmer Square into the new building, too, will be its procreator, Palmer Square Inc., as will the law offices of Albridge C. Smith III. In fact, 70 Nassau will house easily as many counselors as it will cashiers. Other lawyers planning to move in are the firms of Smith (Edgar S.), Stratton & Wise; Theodore D. Vreeland, and William Miller.

Two other tenants at 70 Nassau will be J. P. Cleaver Co., management consultants, and Braveman, Freedman & Co., accountants. While all of these organizations will be settling into the building at different times during the summer and early fall, the six-floor structure should be ready for occupancy about the middle of July, according to Mr. Blatcher.

Meanwhile, Across the Way. On the other side of the entrance to Palmer Square is, among others, Clayton's. For 15 years, first from upper Nassau Street and then from its present location, Clayton's has been supplying a yard of this and a spool of that to Princeton's indefatigable legion of amateur seamstresses, past, present and future.

Clayton's never runs out of what are still called "dry goods." But it has run out of space. Before long, therefore, it will extend its ribbon counters into the areas now occupied (but to be vacated) by the law offices of Albridge C. Smith III and by Palmer Square Inc., manifest evidence of the fact that age, as measured in yard-goods years, doesn't presage atrophy.

Down Nassau Street, beyond the rehabilitated Bait Building and the burgeoning First National Bank and across Witherspoon, stands English-timbered Lower Pyne, lonely twin of the late Upper Pyne, brought to earth last summer to make way for new Number 70. Lower Pyne, built in 1896, may be lonely, but it too has plans.

For example, The Cummins Shop, for many years an unexcelled source of gifts for ladies and of helpful advice to men who inevitably must buy those gifts, will double the space it has occupied since the 1930's. This it will accomplish by taking over the area now occupied by the westward-bound Walter B. Howe Inc., and by removing the separating wall, thus reconstructing in general outline (though happily not in decor) the pre-Palmer Square post office.

Northward, Western Union! Debouching from its 40-year headquarters in Lower Pyne and taking its gift-o-grams as it goes is Western Union. It will settle into the space in the Benson (nee Branch) Building at present occupied by the Christian Science Reading Room, whose new home is as yet undetermined.

What will replace Western Union in the catbird's seat at the corner of Nassau and Witherspoon is also unknown. Except that it won't be Postal Telegraph. W.U.'s marching orders are dated for November 1.

Other Princeton organizations, new and old, large and small, are also on the move or on the search. Hilton Really, among others, will be moving into the new Sands Building, opposite the Nassau Street School, when it is finished in the fall.

Carnegie Realty, Queenston Builders and others will be going to the new Gregory Building, across from Saint Paul's, in September. A Texaco station will occupy part of the handsome Nassau Oil building at the corner of Witherspoon and Hulfish.

Fourth Estate Real Estate. Long since gone are the days when The Princeton Packet, "New Jersey's Oldest Weekly Newspaper," was written in the Moore Street home of a former editor, who then took his material via hip-pocket to New York Thursday mornings and came back with the few hundred finished copies, most of it "boiler-plate," the same evening. After heroic resuscitation efforts by the present publisher, Bernard Kilgore, the Packet now has a proud new home of its own—out Witherspoon Street, near Community Park School. The move from Spring Street will be made about December.

Another long-established Princeton publishing firm, the Princeton University Press, is shopping around for land on which to build a $1 million printing plant and storage facility — its editorial offices would remain in Princeton on William Street, where the Press building has stood in pseudo-Gothic solemnity since 1911. Right now, though, the Press is searching for an answer to the question that plagues even the most modest home-hunter: "Where do we go?"

It has been temporarily stymied by zoning restriction in Lawrence Township's Princessville Research Park. But it is still looking there as well as north of Princeton. And one thing's for sure: it wants to move, "as soon as possible," says Executive Assistant Gordon Hubel, "and certainly to acquire a site within a year."

So whether it be a one-room law office or a million dollar press building, a lot of Princeton business is, just as in any other spring time, on or about to be on the road to new quarters. Only, this year, more so. And everybody seems happy about it—particularly, perhaps, the people who own the moving vans.

REAPPRAISAL SET

For Borough Properties. A reappraisal of all property within the Borough of Princeton will be made by the end of October, it was announced at Tuesday night's meeting of Mayor and Council. A contract for the survey has been signed with Municipal Revaluations Inc. (See below for further details.)

Also at Tuesday's meeting, Council voted to establish a Shade Tree Commission to look after the health and welfare of the many trees which contribute so much to the appearance of the town. Members of the new commission, appointed by Mayor Patterson, include: Richard W. Coleman, Mrs. Bruce French, Edward W. Morehouse, Mrs. Donald C. Stuart and Robert W. van de Velde.

Council also voted to delay action on a number of items. These deferments included:

• A request by Palmer Square Inc. President Fred M. Blaicher that the Nassau Inn be allowed to serve drinks from 12:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Sundays with meals (the law now prohibits drinks between 3 and 5 p.m.) and that it be allowed to serve them in public meeting rooms prior to meals. Action was deferred until a study could be made of the Sunday-drinking regulations in other municipalities in the State.

• An ordinance to rezone parts of Witherspoon Street from a commercial to a residential classification. Action on this was postponed until the proposed changes were considered at the next meeting of the Planning Board.

• A recommendation by the Zoning Board of Adjustment that approval be given for the conversion of 23-25 Bank Street into four apartment dwelling units. Approval was postponed until two required off-street parking spaces could be provided.

• Another recommendation by the Zoning Board that approval be granted to Charles LaPlaca for a use variance to allow the construction of a 40-unit apartment complex just west of Harrison Street North. The matter will be referred back to the Zoning Board to clear up what was termed certain "ambiguous and incomplete information" on the project.

Other Busines. At Tuesday's meeting, Council also unanimously passed a resolution commending Mrs. Alice Schannel on her more than 35 years of selfless, faithful service in Borough Hall, "including that of being Princeton's unofficial and only policewoman," added Commissioner William H. Walker. Mrs. Schannel plans to retire July 1.

Council also:

Approved the hiring of a real estate expert to advise it on the establishment of "interior" parking lots (similar to the one which now is located just off Witherspoon Street across from the Grotto).

Decided to hold off until August the introduction of an ordinance governing proposed extensive changes in parking regulations. This would postpone public hearing on the matter until the September meeting.

Heard a letter from Councilman Walker to the State Alcohol Beverage Control asking endorsement of a maximum penalty of $200 fine, 90 days in jail, or both for any adult (other than a parent) purchasing alcoholic beverages for a minor. At present there is no penalty for such an act.

Approved the introduction of an ordinance allowing for joint Borough-Township operation of the Community Gardens playgrounds. Public hearing and final consideration of

Round-Up

A postcard mailed in 1893 to the late Walter B. Howe arrived in the Princeton Post Office Tuesday. . . . It wasn't really seven decades late, but rather had wound up on the sidewalk in front of the Howe office as the result of some spring cleaning preparatory to the upcoming move to 70 Nassau. . . . A passer-by dropped it in the collection box, and Postmaster John Dilworth ceremoniously delivered it back to the Howe people—a round-trip accomplished without charge beyond its 71-year-old one-cent stamp.

Anybody miss one of those Sabin oral polio vaccine? If so, here's your last chance to get it free in Mercer County. . . . Through Saturday, each day from 10 to 5, a vaccine "make-up" clinic will be held in Trenton. . . . At the March of Dimes Office, 7 East State Street. . . . All three types of vaccine will be available.

Our man in Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge, got most Republican write-in in New Jersey's April 21 primaries. . . . 7,666 for Lodge, 5,248 for Goldwter, 4,477 for Nixon. . . . Our man in The White House, Lyndon Baines Johnson, swept the field among Democratic write-ins.

Said Webster B. Todd of Lodge's showing: "Quite a job." Mr Todd is Republican State Chairman. . . . Said Thorn Lord of the write-ins: "Insignificant." Mr. Lord is Democratic State Chairman.

Weather hereabouts couldn't have been better than it was last week (One nice thing about postcasting, rather than forecasting, the weather—you can't very easily go wrong) No rain, warm days, cool nights. In a word, perfect.

Princeton Fire Chief Robert F. Mooney issues a timely warning don't use plastic containers for flammable liquids. Particularly, don't use those colorful imitations of WW II GI cans for gasoline. . . . They are combustible, and they also crack open.

Michael Pilenza, owner of the Grotto Restaurant, reported to police on Friday that about $500 in a deposit bag was taken from its hiding place. . . . No sign of forced entry. . . . Case being investigated.

Five cases of auto vandalism reported last week all in the center of town. . . . And five other thefts. . . . Vandalism ranged from wheel and tire snatching to antenna breaking. Antenna breaking may be sheer devilry, or it may be for a far more sinister purpose. . . . Reportedly, the bottom is just the right diameter for conversion into a .22-cal. zip-gun, and the rest of it, sharpened, makes a wicked whip or epee.

As for thefts, $305.50 (in addition to the $500 at the Grotto) in cash or in kind was lifted during the week. . . . And police are on the lookout for someone who is taking sections of fencing from Marquand Park . . . Some was found recently cached away in the park, apparently to be picked up later.

Monday night was the first anniversary of Princeton's worst riot. . . . Contrary to rumor, there was no encore at the University. But, over at Westminster Choir College, they managed a small ruckus of their own.

Borough police got a call from the choir college security officer at about 11:15 p.m. to come quash a small disturbance Police arrived, the hooting and calling ceased. And so to bed

Stay?

Having replaced April's cold drizzle with a full share of warm sunshine, May is welcome to run its course.

Showers might be part of the picture on Thursday, the Man said, but they are due for an early departure. After that? Could just be three delightful May days, right through the weekend.

the measure is scheduled for Council's June 9 meeting.

Heard with appreciation a report from Councilman Alan W. Carrick that 100 young red oaks and six larger ones had been presented to Princeton by Kiwanis.

Approved the request of the Six-Eight Charlton Corp. for transfer of the plenary retail liquor license from Charles J. Sailliez to the corporation. Six-Eight Charlton, which will continue the business under the name of Charles E. Sailliez and Son at the 174 Nassau Street address, lists the following officers: Charles J. BOROUGH TO RE-VALUE

First in Eight Years. The Borough taxpayer will find his property under scrutiny next month when Municipal Re-Evaluations, Inc. begins a lot-by-lot survey leading to complete review of all Borough property.

Re-evaluation was included in the 1964 budget, and the Borough will pay a fee of $14,-950 to the Avon, N.J. firm for its work. Mayor Henry Patterson said this week that the job will be finished by the end of October.

Municipal officials would like to have a re-evaluation of property every five years, but they have had to wait eight years for this one. The last review was in 1956.

"Now that we're relying on a tax ratio with the Township for our joint projects, it's essential to have a reasonable and proper tax situation," Mayor Patterson commented.

The announcement came simultaneously with the news that the State Senate has voted to repeal a law which allows assessment of both real and personal property at anywhere

"IN WHITE AMERICA"

Next Tuesday. "A flaming editorial", in the words of Howard Taubman of the New York Times, will come to life next Tuesday when McCarter Theatre brings back to Princeton Martin Duberman's documentary, "In White America."

Curtain time is 8:30, and tickets are available at the box-office.

Mr. Duberman, a member of the history department at Princeton University, has taken the words from letters, documents, speeches and memoirs written during a 200-year span of American history, and has fashioned them into a documentary drama of Nego life.

The appearance of the "White America" company will be their third in Princeton in five months. The play is now in its eighth month in New York.

FATHER, DEAR FATHER!

It's the Players Again. "Ten Nights in a Bar-room," a work considerably earlier than "Twelfth Night," and considered by some authorities not to have been written by Shakespeare at all, will serve Princeton's Community Players for their June Gala.

It will be mounted on the Murray Theatre stage on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 12 and 13, 19 and 20 and 26 and 27. Tickets will go on sale in about two weeks.

Grenville Cuyler, whose work as actor and director has taken him to New York and Dallas and even to the McCarter stage, will direct.

ELLA OF THE CINDERS: Cinderella, before and after her transformation, will be danced by two different dancers at the Aparri Workshop presentation this Saturday. The forlorn Cinderella with the broom is Cintra Huber, the glowing Cinderella with the crown is Karen Hoffman. The two dancers have switched roles in the course of the two-week Workshop, just to show how versatile they are.

THE THREE "S's"

Shakespeare, Sports, Surfing. "Olympia—Part II", Leni Reifenstahl's documentary of the 1936 Olympic games, will be shown on the McCarter screen this Wednesday at 8 p.m., giving to Princeton sports-lovers a rare chance to see such events as the Glenn Morris decathlon, and the swimming, rowing, gymnastic, wrestling and cycling competitions that made Olympic history 28 years ago.

The following night (this Thursday at 8 p.m.) McCarter will open a two-part "Shakespeare on Film" program with Laurence Olivier's "Henry V." Olivier's "Hamlet" will be shown next Thursday at 8 p.m. as the second offering on the program.

Surfing will be featured this Friday at 8 when the John Severson color film, "The Angry Sea" will be shown. Among the surfing locales to be explored in this film are Waimea Bay, Hawaii, reputed to be the most dangerous surfing location in the world.

Tickets for all four movies are on sale at the McCarter box-office.

FIRST FOR NEW BALLET

At McCarter May 23. The first performance by the new Princeton Regional Ballet Company will be given Saturday, May 23, at McCarter Theatre by 24 young dancers from Princeton, Trenton, Hopewell, Pennington, Belle Mead and Highland Park. Three professionals from the American Ballet Theatre of New York will join the group.

They are Reese Haworth of Houston, Tex., Diane Weber of Passaic and Burton Taylor of White Plains, N. Y. Mr. Taylor was a guest artist in last year's production of the Princeton Ballet Society.

The new company, formed six months ago, is one of over 50 similar groups in the country, dedicated to the promotion of dance as an art. The nine schools drawn upon for auditions were: Aparri School of Dance, Princeton Ballet Society School and Peggy Bayer School, all of Princeton; Irene Parker School and Granzow Dancing Academy, both of Trenton; Mary Papa Studio of White Horse; and Joan Holmes Studio and Mona's Dance Studio, both of Mount Holly.

Audree Estey of the Ballet Society is artistic director of the company and Roland Guerard serves as ballet master. Mrs. Lawrence Benson of Skillman is in charge of ticket sales.

Two New Ballets. A new work, Chanson Innocente, by Mrs. Estey, will star Ann Hentz and Penny Guerard, both of Pennington; Jo Anne Kannon of New Brunswick, Reese Haworth of the American Ballet Theatre and Douglas Dunn of Princeton University. Margaret L. Sinclair is the choreographer for the other new ballet.

Included in the cast of Chanson are Greta Ford, Kitten Hulit, Lauren Lauck, Jeanne Solan, Diane Byer, Therese Donohue, Rosemary LaPlaca, Phyllis Papa, Lisette Stultzfus, George Spelvin as the balloon man and Richard Lewis as Pan.

The romantic ballet was inspired by a poem of e. e. Cummings and "suggests the restless adolescence of young girls flowering into mature love." An old balloon man who whistles at the children's games turns into Pan at the conclusion of the dance. Mrs. Estey is using a waltz by Nathaniel Burt, composed three years ago, for the dance.

Mr. Guerard's Grand Pas de Deux Classique will be performed by Miss Weber and Mr. Taylor. "It is entirely new choreography done in the old classic style — without acrobatics," says Mr. Guerard.

The second act of Swan Lake will again present Miss Weber and Mr. Taylor in the original Russian choreography by Marius Petipa. Other roles will be taken by Mr. Dunn, Craig Benham, Richard Lewis and David Vomacka.

Swans will be Debby Bishop, Diane Byer, Therese Donohue, Greta Ford, Penny Guerard, Ann Hentz, Kitten Hulit, Brook Jones, Jo Anne Kannon, Rosemary LaPlaca, Lauren Lauck, Eva Maxwell, Phyllis Papa and Jeanne Solan.

TWO FROM "HUD": Paul Newman and Patricia Neal, principals in "Hud," at the Playhouse this weekend.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Three specials are on the bill at the Playhouse through next Tuesday — all of them top movies which you may have missed first time around, and all of them well worth seeing (even for a second time).

Some Like It Hot (Wednesday and Thursday) is one of those films that truly deserve the frequently misapplied adjective "hilarious." It stars Jack Lemmon, who can be a very funny guy indeed and who was never funnier than he is in this. His capers as an unwilling transvestite in a supposedly all-girl jazz band on tour are memorably madcap.

Hud (Friday through Sunday) is also in the "must see" category. The nondescript, undescriptive title is the only negative, but it is unfortunately of sufficient prominence to have kept a lot of people from seeing what is otherwise an excellent film.

It can maybe best be tagged a "contemporary Western." But it's much more than just another Western, thanks to an absorbing story and superb performances by Paul Newman Melvyn Douglas, Patricia Neal and Brandon de Wilde.

One, Two, Three (Monday and Tuesday) is the third in the week's trilogy of meritorious reruns at the Playhouse. This is an all-out, laugh-'em-up ribbing of big business — the highly carbonated world of Coca-Cola International. See it and laugh, and you'll also understand why American industry is not necessarily considered by people in other lands to be quite the beneficient innocence abroad that we think it should be.

THE PRINCE

Tom Jones (through Tuesday) is the magnificent, bawdy, boisterious, beautiful, call-it-what-you-will movie of Henry Fielding's 18th Century Classic "The History of Tom Jones, a Foundling." The film is a far-out, hilariously cockeyed, delightfully outrageous picture of life as it was then. It has won four Oscars — including the most coveted: "best picture."

Fielding's original is, and will continue to be, rated as the greatest comic novel in the language. Now Tony Richardson's movie adaptation has made it into a film which is, and also will continue to be, an absolutely magnificent cinema entertainment.

It's a triumph. Run, don't walk, to the nearest entrance —and have a good time. You can't miss.

This is the fifth and final week of Tom's cavorting on the screen at the Prince. He merits your attention if you haven't yet seen him.

THE GARDEN

The Servant (through Tuesday) is a slick, spooky account of corruption and moral deterioration and the strange triumph of evil over evil. It's "The Picture of Dorian Grey" played in a slightly different, equally minor Key.

Set in modern London, it shows what happens when a gentleman's gentleman is really a non-gentleman's non-gentleman. Dirk Bogarde is the valet whose unscrupulous venality brings about the downfall of his caddish employer, James Fox. The denouncement: the servant becomes the master, the former master becomes his slave.

Sure, the theme is clearly not a pleasant one. But it has bite. And the dialogue, the clever use of a busily snooping prying camera, and the performances of Bogarde and Fox

IT'S NEW To Us

THAT CUSTOM FIT

For Particular Men. Is there a man in the world who wouldn't love to have a custom-made suit or shirt? (And with Father's Day coming, too!

The Richard Bennett shop, at 15 West State Street in Trenton, has the most fascinating custom set-up we've ever seen, and we think you ought to steer the head of your family toward State Street. You can browse there yourself, of course, because the shop makes suits and coats and slacks for women, too.

Well, the core of custom in the Richard Bennett establishment is a camera and mirror arrangement which takes detailed pictures of your precise measurements. (See picture, this page.)

You stand, relaxed, before a panel of mirrors, with tapes around seat, chest, overarm. An extra pelvic measurement is taken of women. The camera not only photographs you in left and right profile and front, but also from the top so that the tailor can capture the exact slope of your shoulders and the nape of your neck.

This overhead measurement is especially important for men, because many men have a hump or slouch at the top of the spins and if this feature isn't considered in tailoring a suit, the fit can be sloppy indeed.

When the suit comes from the tailor, another photograph is made, just for the record, but the tailor is so confident of the accuracy of the original photograph, that he even sends the suit to you with cuffs. They tell us at Richard Bennett that 97 per cent of their customers walk right out of the store in the new suit the first time they see it. However, you may have dozens of fittings if necessary, of course.

Prices start at $89. We saw a handsome Glen plaid for $125, and a splendid wool sports jacket for $65. The shelves are full of tropicals and other light?weight fabrics at this time of the year — you won't have trouble choosing. How about a fine cashmere sports jacket for Father's Day?

Or a custom-made shirt, if cashmere sounds too rich for your diet. For $12.50, you may have a custom shirt with a collar that fits to the millimeter and pockets in the number and location that you choose. We counted nine shelves of shirting fabrics, including dress whites, Tattersalls and Madras for sports wear—infinity!

For Women, prices start at $97.50 for a skirt and jacket. Slacks start at $29, skirts at $25, outer coats at $92.50. If you have your own favorite wool, brought back from a trip to Scotland, the shop will make it up for you at a slightly reduced price.

Richard Bennett suggests, for example, a three-piece plaid suit for fall: a skirt and topper, with a reversible walking coat made of a solid-color wool which picks up a color in the plaid.

This is one advantage of Richard Bennett for both men and women, by the way: the shop's expert tailors can suggest for you the fabric that will be most becoming to your figure. In addition, the shop keeps on file a complete record of swatches from the clothes they have made for you. So, if you drop in some day and say you want a black and white check jacket they will get out your file and remind you that you already have a black and white check jacket.

No appointment necessary—just walk in the door.

RARITIES IN BLOOM

At Rhododendron Nursery. "We've been collecting rhododendrons for five years, and our friends say we're crazy, but we love being crazy, if rhododendrons are part of it."

The words are those of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Heuser, formerly of Parkside Drive, Princeton, now of Indian Run Nursery, Robbinsville. (Three miles beyond Route 130 on the road to Allentown.)

Indian Run is new — this is its first season — but even in its new unfinished state, it is a paradise for botanist, horticulturist and anybody who just plain loves rhododendrons. Here you will find plants that can give you a complete sequence of bloom from early April to mid-June, starting with the pink Mucronulatum and continuing through Pioneer, Oritani, Purple Gem and Ramapo, Windbeam, Wyanokie.

This pink Mucronulatum, by the way, is a clone — that is, a special form of a plant reproduced by cutting rather than by seed. (For those who know nothing of botany a visit to Indian Run is enlighten-

"Modern," Revived

A nostalgic bit of the past, a revival of an old-fashioned piece of modern furniture, is a startling and welcome addition to the new floor displays at Viking Furniture.

It's a combination of thick plate glass and chrome steel, combined at the moment in an oblong coffee table, but available also in a round table and a small or large square table. The underpinning is chrome steel in a big, elongated "ti", clearly visible through the clean transparency of the plate glass.

Youngsters who weren't even born when chrome and glass were avant garde, may find it refreshing change from all the wood grain of the usual contemporary.

(Instead of Chrome you may have bronze, if you wish.)

in their purposely distasteful role-reversals make "Servant" more than just a "below stairs" study of debauchery.

"DESK SET" TO OPEN

From Pennington Players. Performances of the Penningington Players' production of "Desk Set" will be presented this Friday and Saturday, and May 22 and 23 in the Playbarn, West Franklin Avenue (off Route 69). Tickets are available through Mrs. Marge Myers, 318 Hale Street, or at the door.

Alan Aiken will direct a cast headed by Dolly Urban as "Bunny," and including Rosemarie Arcieri, Inez Gale, Frances DeLuxe, Bill Holden, John Todd, Robert Buckler, Mary Rees, George Kolitsas, Jo Cullier, Eunice Abbots, Jean Freeman, Jean Gwiazdowski and Sam Crouse.

Mr. Aiken has directed and acted with the Merchantville Players and the Village Playbox of Haddonfield. His assistant, Judy Papier, has worked with college drama groups and with previous productions of the Players.

MUSICAL PLANNED

By Central Students. "Once Upon A Mattress" will be performed by Central High School music students as its second annual production Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, in the school auditorium. Three performances are scheduled including 8:15 on both evenings and 1:30 on Saturday.

Tickets are $1 for the evening shows, and student tickets will be sold for 50 cents at the matinee only. Reservations may be made through Don MacKellar, 737-2059.

Robert Sine is the director, and his assistants from the student body are Pat Lambert, Evelyn Wilcox and Kristen Pierson. Miss Lambert, a junior played the leading role in the Pennington Junior Players' production of "You Can't Take It With You," and has been a member of the folk group, "The Goobers."

Miss Wilcox was a student director for last year's musical. Miss Pierson has been a member of the school's girls' and mixed choruses.

ONE FROM "ONE, TWO, THREE:" Pamela Tiffin, Coca-Cola devotee, at the Playhouse Monday and Tuesday.

CAST ANNOUNCED

For "Come Blow Your Horn." The Commuters of Franklin Township have selected six cast members for "Come Blow Your Horn," with performances scheduled for June 5 and 6. Ticket reservations may be made through Art Rouder, business manager, at 297-0446.

Mrs. Howard Auerbach and Alan Stolser will play the mother and father, and Mr. Rouder will take the part of their elder son. Mrs. Charles Stein and Mrs. Rouder will be the "girl friends," with Mrs. Sidney Smith taking a walk on role. The part of the younger son is not yet filled.

The production crew is headed by Mrs. Harry Rosenfeld and Sandy Abell. Marvin Schlaffer is president of the Commuters and producer of the show, and Chic Moskowitz is director.

IT'S MONDAY AGAIN

Jazz Series to Start. Great names in jazz will sign in again this summer at the Lambertville Music Circus, with jazz on the calendar for Monday nights right through August 31.

Al Hirt will open the series on Monday, June 15, followed in succession by Maynard Ferguson, Dave Brubeck and Louis Armstrong. That takes us up to Monday, July 6. From then on, dates have not been pinned down, but music lovers can expect to hear Woody Herman, Cannonball Adderley, the Dukes of Dixieland, Count Basie, Duke Ellington and "others," whoever they may be.

The regular musical show series at the Music Circus will begin on Saturday, May 30, with a continuous run until Sunday, August 30. Shows scheduled are "Kiss Me, Kate," "No Strings," "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," "Music Man," "Blossom Time," "The Sound of Music" and "My Fair Lady."

NEW COMEDY TO OPEN

At Bucks Playhouse. When a psychiatrist writes a play about family life, his family has a right to wonder just how objective the drama is.

Such is the theme of "Linda Stone Is Brutal," a new comedy by William F. Brown scheduled to open next Monday for a two-weeks run at the Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope. Performances will be given at 8:30 each evening and at 2 p.m. as well on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The play will run through May 30.

Kim Hunter, Andrew Duggan and Scott McKay will co-star and Marc Daniels will direct, all under the producing aegis of Michael Ellis.

Andrew Duggan, making his first appearance at the playhouse, will portray the psychiatrist and Miss Hunter will play his wife. Mr. McKay has been cast as a friend of the couple. Miss Hunter will be remembered by theatre-goers for her memorable creation of Stella in "Streetcar Named Desire," a role she portrayed on Broadway, winning the New York Drama Critics' Award, and on the screen, winning an Oscar.

Mr. McKay appeared in "Once for the Asking," on Broadway this winter, and has, of course, played the Playhouse before, in "Tunnel of Love." Mr. Duggan may be seen in the film, "Seven Days in May."

"Linda Stone Is Brutal" is the second play in a ten-play, 20-week summer season. Subscriptions for the balance of the season are available at a 20% discount, with party discounts for groups of 24 to 400. Arrangements may be made by calling 215-862-2041.

It's New To Us

ing and at times, magnificently confusing.)

Collectors will be particularly interested in Indian Run's collection of Dexters. "Scintillation," for example, will be in bloom by the time you read this and drive down to the nursery. Hardy and broad of leaf, it has a luminous pink flower as truly pink as you will find in the rhododendron family. "Wheatley," another Dexter(he's the man who developed them), will be in bloom about a week after. Last year, Mrs. Heuser picked 64 blooms from a mature Wheatley.

IN PLAYHOUSE DEBUT: Kim Hunter will make her first appearance at the Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope, in a new comedy, "Linda Stone Is Brutal."

One of the features of Indian Run is an area where you can see mature plants, and get some idea of the future, as you hold your own small plant in your hand. The Wheatley we saw is a globe about three feet across, growing right down to the ground — one of the handsomest plants amiginable.

Now, if you'll wait a season or two, you may have deciduous azaleas imported from the Knapp Hill Nursery in England and from Lord Rothschild's estate at Exebury. Pure White, orange, pink and red in this collection — you can see them now, settling into the New Jersey earth after their hare-footed voyage from England.

Indian Run has hardy plants only — plants that can take the wind, sun and exposure of central New Jersey; in fact, many of them were developed in the colder areas of the north and in Pennsylvania, so you don't need to worry about ampering.

FROM THE CEILING

New Lights at Viking. Ceiling fixtures in the contemporary vein have always been difficult to find, but Viking Furniture has located a line called Danlite ($18 to $90) which is sure to brighten the roof over your head.

Clear and clean of line and light, in the Scandinavian manner, these fixtures shed their light through concentraic copper circles, through translucent milk glass in pear shape, through the sisal in a teak frame, through the slits in a black or aluminum cone.

Such a light might hang above the rosewood dining table when it's extended to its full 106¼ inches from the original 59. Or above the 97½-inch rosewood buffet — yes, 97½ inches!

This buffet — longer than some dining-rooms—has wooden latches that make small but interesting breaks in the smooth front. And doors! The first one has French trays, the second and third have shelves, the fourth goes back to trays and the fifth is shelves again.

Viking has some 10-inch-high teak figure carvings standing in a row on top. They have been worked in such a manner that the grain of the teak emphasizes the turn of a shoulder or the conformation of a head. Some are quite lifelike, others are abstract.

That buffet comes in teak or walnut, too, by the way, and that big rosewood dining table in teak, if you wish.

A ladies' desk for moderns. Contradiction? Not at Viking. This charming desk has three little drawers, three big ones, and a roll-top that conceals the efficient clutter of invitations, love-letters and date books.

The grain of the teak has been dovetailed so that the rolltop has a pattern of four sharp diamonds when the desk is closed. Delightful little piece for a sunny corner of your home.

For another kind of corner, viking suggests a bar on invisible coasters, its surface covered with black mica, its hinges concealed behind black slate squares. It has a drawer and a cutout shelf for easy storage.

Viking's particular delight this spring is a catalogue of wool rugs from $79. Roosters, abstracts, a herd of horses, even three Magi for Christmas are included in the varied collections. They're made in Denmark.

from 20 to 100 percent of true value. The assembly is expected to follow suit, and if Governor Richard J. Hughes signs the measure, then municipalities will have to assess not only real estate, but personal business property, such as equipment and inventory, at 100 percent.

Mayor Patterson said that he does not regard the possible change as a serious problem for the Borough, chiefly because there are no heavy inventories in the municipality —massive machinery, and the like. The Borough has a business property tax based, like the real estate tax, on 33 1/3 per cent of true value. All the figures for 100 percent assessment are on file according to Administrator Robert F. Mooney and all that is necessary is conversion from one-third to the total figure. The summer's re-evaluation will be on a 100 percent basis.

WHEN THE RENT IS DUE

Township vs. University. The slim budget of the married graduate student came under discussion once again when the Township Planning Board met on Monday night.

Princeton University has wanted for a long time to tear down "the project" on Harrison Street and build permanent housing for about 500 graduate students, many of them married.

The Township thinks that one-bedroom apartments should have a minimum of 750 square feet of floor space, but the University regards this as appallingly, "extravagantly" large. So large, in fact, that University officials believe they could not build such apartments and still charge the low rent which is all a married graduate student can afford on his $2,000 - $3,500 salary.

In a letter addressed to the Planning Board, John P. Moran, Director of Physical Planning for the University, said that the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency used the word "extravagant" to describe Township demands.

Room for Whom? In the past, the University has quoted apartment sizes provided at other campuses to show that married graduate students do very well indeed without all that space. Mr. Moran, in his letter, said, "If we are not able to build married student housing, we will have to seriously curtail our graduate program or find our graduate students scattered all over central New Jersey."

The Township takes the position that it is indeed hard to pay the rent on $2,000-$3,500 a year; however, Township officials point out that many a young Township resident just starting out in life is in exactly the same position. How can the municipality grant the privilege of sub-size, inexpensive apartments to one group and not to all?

The University suggests that a re-definition of the word "dormitory" might solve the problem. "Individual cooking facilities may be provided in groups of rooms of not less than 400 net square feet to be occupied only by married students" is the suggested amendment.

The Board did not reach a decision on the matter.

In other business, the Planning Board received a recommendation from the Open Space Commission to ask the state for Green Acres money to purchase about 25 acres of the Van Dyke Wight property along the back of the lots on the northern side of Overbrook Drive in the Snowden Lane area.

The Board also approved two subdivision plans for 18 lots in the "Balcort" subdivision off Cherry Hill Road.

ROUTE 95 AGAIN

Through Hopewell? Montgomery? Interstate Route 95 may slice through Hopewell and Montgomery Townships on its way north to Bound Brook, according to proposals suggested by Herbert H. Smith Associates, planning consultants to Montgomery and Hopewell Townships and Hopewell Borough.

The route was outlined Friday at a meeting in the firm's Trenton office with officials of municipalities in Mercer and Somerset Counties that would be affected. It was also presented to the Hopewell Township Planning Board Friday night.

Plans call for the new highway to go from the bridge at Scudders Falls to Scotch Road, passing behind the new Hopewell Township building on Mercer County highway 546. It would cross Route 69 just above Yard Road north of Pennington, then follow the tracks of the Reading Railroad almost to Hopewell, then travel north of the Borough of Hopewell into and through Montgomery Township to meet Route 287 near Bound Brook.

The municipalities represented at the meeting in Trenton "more or less tentatively sanctioned the route," according to Beatrice S. Skillman, Montgomery Township clerk. Montgomery planning board members are scheduled to discuss the alignment in executive session this Wednesday, with a public meeting planned after more facts are available.

The State Highway Department has not revealed the exact alignment of the highway. Originally, Route 95 was to run parallel to Route One from Bakers Basin, with a leg between the Basin and the Scudders Falls bridge; however, this route has been disapproved by the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

THREE ARE INJURED

As Car Misses Turn. Inability to make the turn from Washington Road into College Road Tuesday night about 8 45 resulted in serious injury to three Princeton residents.

Township Police said that a car driven by Kerry Klink 17, 35 Erdman Avenue, struck a tree after turning east on College Road toward Palmer Stadium, ricocheted and rammed another tree on the opposite side of the road. He is in serious condition in Princeton Hospital with a fractured knee cap, lacerations of the forehead and the effects of shock

His sister, Marianne Klink, same address, required 100 sutures to close cuts on her face and head. Suffering also from abraisions and shock, she is in satisfactory condition.

A second passenger, Marianne McGuire, 18, 88 Jefferson Road, has a concussion and lacerations of the forehead. She is also in serious condition.

TWO ARE FINED

As Drunk Drivers. Arthur A Johns, 21, 22 Leigh Avenue, was fined $225 Monday and had his license revoked for two years by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. He pleaded not guilty.

Police said the defendant caused an accident last month when he made an improper turn at the intersection of Washington Road and William Street. They added that John had "a very high reading" on a Breath-O-Lyzer test

At a special sessions held Thursday before Magistrate Tams, Robert Smith, 30, of Trenton, was fined $225 as a drunken driver His license was revoked for thre years because of his extensive record of traffic violations. In one period from October, 1958 to April, 1963 during which Mr Smith's license had been suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles as a violations repeater, Mr. Smith was convicted of over 15 motor vehicle offenses.

In other cases, Kenneth McEwen, 38, 27 Green Street, was fined $30 for failing to set a hand brake, and $10 for having no registration in his possession. Alfred R. Mason, 18, 327 Nassau Street, and George J. Lemmon Jr., 19, 40 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, were each fined $15 on noisy muffler charges.

Fines of $15 were also levied against Harold C Logan, 41, Princeton Pike, following too closely, and William Ronald, Main Street, Kingston, improper passing. Robert A Pedersen, 19, Windsor Drive, Princeton Junction, paid $10 for unauthorized use of a blue light on his car of the type displayed by volunteer firemen.

Miss Angela Drake, 21, 13 Quarry Street, was fined twice: $15 for failure to notify the Motor Vehicle Department of change of address, and $10 for no registration in possession. A third charge—unlicensed driver—was dismissed.

The Motor Vehicle Department announced the suspension of licenses of two area drivers under its Point System. Robert J Sutphen, 19, Province Line Road, lost his for 60 days; Frank J Coccioliilo Jr., 19, Washington Road, Rocky Hill, two months.

In criminal court, two Princeton University students pleaded guilty as minors in possession of alcohol. Ward Coe, 3rd, Brown Hall, and Alexander C McBride, Joline Hall, both 18, each were fined $25 for drinking beer near the taxi stand area on Nassau Street.

Melvin Best, 20, 214 Birch Avenue, and Richard Silvis, 19 of Trenton, a former resident of Princeton, pleaded not guilty of charges of attempted larceny and trespassing lodged against each.

The pair were charged with attempting to steal a battery from a car in the Princeton Seminary parking yard opposite the Springdale Golf Club On the trespassing charge made by Thomas Brian, Superintendent of Grounds Buildings at the Seminary, Best was sentenced to one day in the Borough jail and $10 court costs; Silvis was fined an equal sum and sentenced to three days in jail.

Magistrate Tams dismissed both charges of attempted larceny. He said that even though the cables on the battery had been cut and that the battery was halfway removed from its receptacle, the two seminary students, who apprehended the youths and held them till the police arrived, had not actually seen them cut the cables. The evidence was circumstantial, he ruled, and not strong enough for conviction.

WOODS AREAS OPEN

For Birds, Naturalists. Open space—almost 200 acres of it—made news twice this week in Princeton.

A new wildlife refuge and nature study area comprising 98 acres on Pretty Brook Road in the Township, has been acquired by the National Audubon Society as a gift from Professor and Mrs. Millard Meiss, and will be open to the public starting this Friday. The former Meiss home will serve as a planning center for the National Audubon Society.

The area, to be known as "Stony Ford Sanctuary," will be surveyed over a two-week period by Allan D. Cruickshank, noted ornithologist, lecturer and photographer, who will arrive on Friday.

Mr. Cruickshank will be available to conduct visitors through the property, which includes woods, fields, meadows, brooks, hedgerows and about four dozen kinds of birds, according to Audubon authorities. The number to call for an appointment is 466-2431.

On Herrontown Road. On the other side of the Township, in Herrontown Woods, the new Committee for Herrontown Wods met with its Board of Consultants on Saturday to talk about plans for development of the 80-acre tract.

The land was given to Mercer County by the late Professor Oswald Veblen and Mrs. Veblen in 1957, for preservation as natural, open space It is the first area of its kind in Mercer County to be maintained as a natural preserve, and has been cited by Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall as an outstanding example of the generosity of individuals in the preservation of the natural environment.

The new committee has been appointed by the Mercer County Park Commission (Freeholder Richard Coffee, president), to assist the commission in the development of Herrontown Woods as a bird, plant and wildlife preserve. The "Showboat" Should Sail Again.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Hundreds should be writing you, for literally thousands came, saw and were conquered by the P J & B performance of SHOW BOAT recently. Never have I seen such a professional "amateur" performance. It was far better than the four professional renditions of the play which I have seen.

Can't we have a repeat—and with the same cast in every big or small appearance? The organization of the Players is entitled to anything they can make out of a repeat—or some really forunate charity could be the beneficiary of repeat performances at full professional prices.

woods will be accessible to the public for so-called "passive recreation"; that is, walking and nature study. Members of the Committee for Herrontown Woods are: Carl Breuer, II, Russell Butler, Mrs. Alan Carrick, Mrs. Gordon Knox (chairman), James Sayen and Richard Thorsell.

Consultants to the committee and the commission represent the fields of geology, soil conservation, forestry, botany, and ornithology. Garden clubs are also represented.

The consultants are: Mrs. Julian Boyd, Miss Dorothy Compton, Mrs. Marshall Dana, Professor Erling Dorf, Mrs. Samuel Hamill, Mrs. C. S. Hitchcock, Mrs. John Kenyon, Mrs. David McAlpin, George Moorhead, Mrs. Malcolm Muir, Dr. William Ribelin, Mrs. Chester D. Schomp, Dr. Lois Shoemaker, Mrs. John Shy and Mrs. Charles Whinfrey.

School teachers who wish to take classes to the woods and leaders of nature groups may obtain information through Mrs. Knox at 924-1072. Maps of Herrontown Woods are available.

CARS HIT POLES

In Separate Accidents. A distraught Princeton woman and a Trenton driver hit Public Service poles last week in separate accidents in the Borough and near the Kingston-Millstone Bridge. Both occurred at 2:20 in the morning.

On Monday, Dolores Floyd, 34, 100 Leigh Avenue, driving on Bayard Lane, proceeded through the intersection of Bayard and Nassau Street, jumped the curb and hit a pole. She told Patrolman Arthur Jackson, who witnessed the mishap, that she was emotionally upset and could not see because of tears in her eyes.

The impact knocked the pole's globe and bulb to the ground and pushed it over at an angle. The driver was uninjured and police made no charges.

Two days earlier, Township Police issued John F. Cavanaugh, 22, of Trenton, a summons for careless driving when he failed to make a sharp curve after crossing the Millstone Bridge.

Police said Mr. Cavanaugh's car left the roadway, traveled 54 feet on the north shoulder, swerved back across the Princeton-Kingston Road, and then continued on another 78 feet on the south shoulder before hitting a pole head-on. The entire front end and windshield of his car were damaged.

A passenger, Harold Stuart, 28, of Trenton, was treated at Princeton Hospital for severe lacerations about the face. Mr. Cavanaugh escaped injury.

KNIGHTS TO GATHER

For Biennial Meeting. The Knights of Columbus, fourth degree, from the second New Jersey district, will hold their biennial meeting next Wednesday, May 20, at 8, at the Princeton council, 111 Prospect Avenue.

The fourth degree group is composed of Faithful Navigators from each local and general assembly in the district and their delegates.

STILL HUNTING . . .

For Recreation Director. Fifteen applications for the position of Recreation Director have been received in the office of Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini, and Mr. Nini hopes that he can announce the appointment early next month.

The Recreation Director, who will administer the joint recreation projects of Borough and Township, will also work with the Township in the construction of Community Park facilities.

Candidates for the job have been interviewed at Rutgers, Temple, Pennsylvania State College, Boston University, Montclair State College, Syracuse University, New York University, Springfield College and Trenton State College.

In addition, the National Recreation Association and the New Jersey Recreation and Parks Society, Inc. have been asked to submit the names of men who might qualify.

VOLUNTEERS TO MEET

At Princeton Hospital. The Princeton Hospital Volunteers will hold their annual meeting this Thursday with two sessions scheduled, one at 10 a.m. and another at 8 p.m., so that all volunteers will be able to attend. Highlights of the meeting, which will be held at the hospital, will be the presentation of service pins.

Receiving pins for 500 or more hours given to hospital volunteer work are: Mrs. Charles Anable, Mrs. Marver Bernstein, Mrs. Raymond Carter, Mrs. Mehrnert Lander, Mrs. J. J. Ness, Mrs. Clifton Rich, Mrs. Albridge C. Smith III, Mrs. William Speers and Mrs. Robert Thompson.

Dorothy MacKenzie will receive a pin for more than 500 hours service as a junior volunteer. Juniors who will be awarded pins for 100 or more hours are: Terry Auletta, Cathy Blackwell, Nancy Goetz, Sharon Golden, Lynn Goldsmith, Margaret Greenfield, Barbara Hoff, Cathy Lahey, Lydia Osborne, Sally Pasley and Mandy Tillotson.

TO HOLD MAIL APPEAL

For MS Funds. A mail solicitation of Township residents will be conducted by Mrs. James J. Reed, 20 Murray Place, of the Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Mrs. Elmer Rodweller of 8 Chestnut Street is assisting her.

The appeal is being made to residents who have not been approached by Mrs. Thomas C. Roberts' special gifts committee, or in the house-to-house

An important message to those who are trying to find the place that will fix their car right — the first time.

Turney Motors' seven mechanics have 227 years experience!

A lot of car owners agree: it is difficult to find a repair shop that will handle any job, that will do the work in a reasonably short time, and that will stand behind its work 100 per-cent. Usually, those who find this end of the rainbow can't help blurting out their good fortune. Perhaps this is why the word around town is, "If you want your car fixed right, take it to Turney's."

No Substitute For Experience

To us, it seems axiomatic that a good repair shop is dependent on good mechanics. And what makes a good mechanic is years of experience and continuous training. The seven at Turney Motors qualify on both counts in spades.

First, there's our service manager, Bill Higgins, 49, just about the nicest service manager around. Bill's been working with cars for 33 years, over 10 as a service manager. Following in line is Albert Turney, now 65. He started when he was 16 and claims he still doesn't know it all . . . "they keep changing them all the time." Walter Trought, who will be 65 next year, started in Trenton when he was 14 at a livery stable behind a mansion located on the corner of State and Clinton where the YMCA now stands. Walt recalls that Billy Sunday lived there when he was in Trenton.

Bill Benedict says he's "been at it for 40 years" but he's one of the youngest 63-year-old mechanics you'll ever see. Charles Gottiaux, 41, skipped high school and started working on cars right away. He's chalked up 25 years. Also 41, Bob Applegate was trained as a mechanic in the Navy. Like his father before him, Bob started working on cars after his discharge in 1946. Eighteen years experience here.

One of our top mechanics is Joe Hoffman, the baby at 26. Despite his youth, Joe has 12 years' experience. Said he, "I got my training with the Opel factory in Germany and they start you off pretty young over there."

Adding it all up, we get 227 years' experience working with cars. We feel this speaks for itself.

While we're on the subject of longevity, we might add, briefly, that it exists in every department at Turney's. Our parts manager, Elwood "Woody" Tenny, a grandfather at 42, has been in the business since 1940. Marty Reef, our sales manager, started to pump gas at Turney's in 1939, while Charlie Ross, the lube man out front, has been a Turney fixture for the past 14 years. Charlie's co-worker, John Ficken, owned and operated his own service station in Blawenburg for 13 years before joining us.

Turney Motors itself has been located at its present location (its only one) since 1937 which makes it one of the granddaddys among the area's new-car dealers. Perhaps Woody best illustrated the absence of turnover here when he said, "The only way I got my job is that the former parts manager died."

Continous Training

As Albert Turney said, they keep changing cars all the time and the direction is toward the more complicated. To keep abreast of these changes, all of Turney's mechanics have, periodically, attended classes conducted by the Chrysler Technicians Training School held in Rye, N. Y. Each session concentrates on one phase of automotive repair. Currently, Charlie Gottiaux is attending a class on air-conditioning.

Only As Good As His Tools.

No matter how much experience and training he may have, a mechanic is only as good as his tools. At Turney's we use only well-known, reliable equipment. Like all good craftsmen, each mechanic has his own tools. In addition, each has the use of an array of essential, costly tools found only in complete shops.

For example, there's our Sun Master Motor Tester, a motor analyzer which we find indispensable. Covered as it is with so many dials and knobs, it would look more at home in a Boeing 707 cockpit. We use it on all our tune-ups.

A partial list of other tools would include a 20-ton hydraulic press, a brake drum lathe, distributor tester, wheel alignment and balancing machine, headlight tester and special equipment (very expensive, by the way), to service alternators. Moreover, each year Turney receives from the Chrysler Corporation a number of "Essential Service Tools" which are vital to the proper repair of that year's Chrysler models.

To Repair Or Not To Repair

How to repair a broken automatic transmission or a power steering mechanism is solved in too many repair shops by the simple expedient of putting in a new unit, a solution which may or may not have been warranted. Chances are, it's more expensive, too. Some will form it out. "A lot of garages will send us alternators to repair," reported Bill Higgins, "simply because they do not have the necessary equipment to do it themselves."

At Turney's we will repair a damaged mechanism if we feel it would be less expensive than putting in a new one. (Occasionally, it is cheaper to put in a new unit.) Furthermore, if we find your car needs major repair, we first get your permission before going ahead. The small things we uncover we repair as we go along.

Stand Behind Work 100 Per-cent

On occasion, any shop may fail to repair a car properly. The ultimate test, then, as far as the customer is concerned, is the degree to which it will stand behind its work. Turney's goes the limit; it guarantees its repair work 100 percent. If your car still does not work right after it has been repaired by us, we're just as eager to find out why as you are. We won't make excuses — we'll get it right the second time. And don't worry. Bill Higgins wouldn't be unpleasant about it even if he wanted to. He's not the type. Which is another reason why we're glad he's working for us.

Doctor Of Motors

Among the plaques and service citations hanging next to Bill's small desk is one that says he has earned the title, "Doctor of Motors." In one sense, it doesn't mean very much — no one will ever call Bill "Dr. Higgins" — but, in another, he has earned that title. He's earned it because, in his own way, he is a professional. You might say that Bill and the team he guides here have never lost a car yet.

Too boastful? Perhaps. But we don't think so. We believe that we offer the best repair service available in the area. Next time you need some work done, try us and judge for yourself.

"This is a special home-to-home appeal," Mrs. Reed says. "It is the home that suffers when MS enters as an unwanted and permanent guest."

BUY A SURPRISE

For $1 At Fete. The Hospital Fete has added a surprise package "pie" to its Lane of Shops this year. The surprises will cost $1 on Fitz Patrick Field, Saturday, June 6.

Mrs. George W. Conover and Mrs. James J. Whelan are co-chairmen of the Lane, with Mrs Robert Garber and Mrs. N. David Penrose in charge of the Boutique, a collection of perfumes, soaps and boudoir ornaments. Needlework paintings and petit point will be handled by Mrs. William Adamson Jr. and Mrs. Charles L. Taggart.

The Women's Club of Cranbury, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Carl Osgood and Mrs. David B. McCall, is again sponsoring a hat bar, with Mrs. Halford H. Jay in charge of the Unitarian Church's fabric center. The flea market, headed by Mrs. William H. Aiken, will be presented by the Hospital Aid Committee.

Mrs. Charles J. Young and Mrs. James Barnes will supervise the craft workshop, and Mrs. F. D. Epps will be in charge of the Friendship Club's apron counter. Mrs. Florence Taylor will again do pastel portraits, and a glass-blowing demonstration will be included in the Lane.

THREE GIRLS ASSAULTED

During House Party Weekend. Three young women, all

Early Sunday afternoon, Borough police received a call from a landlady who reported that a girl staying at her home had been criminally assaulted between 2:30 and 3:30 that morning in the front seat of her car while it was parked in the lot across from the Engineering Quadrangle on Olden Street.

Questioned by the police, the girl, age 20, reported that she had gone to get her sweater and was putting up the top of her convertible when a yellow car drove up. She said that a Negro got out, ran up to her and began striking her about the face. After struggling unsuccessfully with her attacker, the girl reported he criminally assaulted her. She bore a number of bruises about her face and legs.

Police feel there is a possibility that all three attacks were made by the same man. They are continuing their investigation.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL?

Lawrence PTA To Discuss. Richard M. Horch, of the Lawrence Board of Education, will meet with the Lawrenceville Elementary PTA at 8:15 p.m., Thursday at 40 Craven Lane. The meeting will be a round table discussion of the proposed Lawrence Senior High School.

guests at Princeton University's houseparty weekend, were assaulted early Sunday morning in separate incidents.

Shortly after midnight, one girl reported that she had been sitting on a wall outside 1903 Hall, waiting for her escort who had gone inside to make a telephone call, when a young Negro grabbed her and started striking her on the head. She reported she managed to fight him off successfully.

She was taken to Princeton Hospital and treated for a bruise on her forehead. She described her attacker as between 16-18, weighing about 160 pounds, and about six feet tall. He wore a dark polo shirt and dark trousers, she said.

In describing a similar attack, a second girl told police that moments after her date had parked his car to go inside 1901 Hall, a Negro jumped into the car on the driver's side and began punching her. When she managed to break away from him, she said, her assailant escaped with her pocketbook containing $14.

The purse's contents were later found near University Place but the money was missing. The victim was treated at the McCosh Infirmary for a bruised eye.

problems of teen-agers and toddlers this Thursday at 8 at the annual meeting of the Family Service Agency of Princeton.

The meeting will be held in the Parish House of Trinity Church. The public is invited to attend.

Preceding the discussion there will be a play, "Hello and Goodbye," on teen-agers and toddlers, presented by members of Princeton Community Players. It will serve as the basis for Mr. Scott's talk. Members of the audience will be invited to ask questions and to comment.

FUGITIVE IS UNCOVERED

In Assault Arrest. A domestic squabble led to the uncovering last week of a fugitive from justice from Alabama living here since 1960.

On a complaint of assault signed by his wife, and one of trespassing signed by his mother-in-law, Jack Powell, 29, of Little Rocky Hill, was arrested last week by Lt. Francis Maguire and Patrolman Russell Shangle.

After a routine fingerprinting police said they discovered that he was not "Powell" but Robert Saulter, who had escaped from an Alabama road gang.

AWARDS TO BE GIVEN

At Smith Club Meeting. The Smith College Club of Princeton will hold its annual meeting this Thursday at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hartman, "Calross," The Great Road. Scholarship awards for 1964-65 will be announced, and fire this Friday from 7:30 to 8:30 at Camp Tamarak. All troops will participate in singing, and some will cook supper there.

Saturday will be the annual Brownie day at Tamarak, with a flag ceremony, lunch, games and singing planned between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Scout parents are invited to both events.

Mrs. Henry Frank, program chairman, is the director for Brownie day. Junior Troop 18, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank, Mrs. Richard Gilbert and Mrs. J. B. Thomas, will be responsible for building the camp fire on Friday. The rain dates are Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23.

TO ELECT TRUSTEES

Of Lawrenceville Library. Elections will be held by the Lawrenceville Community Library Association at 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 26, in the library room of the firehouse, Phillips Avenue.

Candidates for trustee are Edwin C. Bleicher, Lawrenceville School; John Devlin Jr., Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. John H. Dill, library; Mrs. Lyla H. Malsbury, Lawrenceville Elementary School; William McCarroll, fire company; Mrs. Robert Miller, member at large; Mrs. E. Parker Striffler, PTA; Mrs. Hugh K. Wright, Lawrenceville Garden Club, and Mrs. Wade Stephens, Lawrenceville Women's Club. Parker Striffler is chairman of the nominating committee.

Membership dues, $1, may be renewed at the meeting or mailed to Mr. McCarroll, Monroe Avenue, Lawrenceville.

McLEAN BREAKS GROUND
In West Windsor. A new addition, comprising 12,500 square feet of floor space, symbolizes the growth of McLean Engineering Laboratories, Washington Road, Princeton Junction.

Ground was broken Monday for the wing, which will give McLean half again as much ground space for the manufacture of fans, blowers and cooling systems. McLean occupies a 17-acre tract on Washington Road.

The company, founded in 1940 by Wallace W. McLean, specializes in the design and manufacture of fans and blowers, concentrating on equipment whose sole purpose is the cooling of electronic apparatus and systems.

McLean units were part of the Tiros weather satellite system, the Titan I ICBM program and all space flight programs. In addition, they are used in various industrial and military electronic systems.

STYLIST TO TEACH
At Hairdressers Meeting. Margaret Jeffries, owner of Artistic Hairdressers, and a well-known hair-stylist, will offer two classes at the 16th annual trade show and convention of the New Jersey Master Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, to be held this weekend at Atlantic City.

Billed as one of two "stars," Mrs. Jeffries will present two one-and-one-half hour classes, one to be held before the Masters Competition on Sunday and the other, in "Wigs, Wiglets and Hair Pieces" to be held Monday afternoon. Mrs. Jeffries is a previous winner of many Association competitions.

COWAN DATA HEAD
For ORC. Edward J. Cowan Jr of 7 Lumar Road, Nassau Estates, has assumed leadership of the data processing department at Opinion Research Corporation. He was assistant department head prior to his appointment, and has been with ORC since 1955.

His department is responsible for the electronic processing of statistical data used in the company's research. Mr Cowan gained his BS degree in commerce from Rider College.

ORC APPOINTS UHL
With Carvan Surveys. Jerome Uhl of Nassau Gardens has been named research executive of Opinion Research Corporation's Caravan Surveys Inc. and associate survey director of the parent organization. He was a member of the research staff of Benson and Benson prior to joining ORC.

Mr Uhl will be responsible for sales development and client liaison with Caravan Surveys, which conducts at least four cooperative studies annually across the country. He received his BS and MBA degrees in marketing from Indiana University.

TWO APPOINTED
By Market Dynamics. Raymond Tamasi, 6 Southern Way, has been promoted to associate research director by Market Dynamics Inc., 454 Terhune Road. A graduate of Rutgers with a BA in economics, he was formerly a project director.

PROMOTED: John H. Howard, 256 Shady Brook Lane, has been appointed marketing director of American Cyanamid's agriculture division. Story, this page.

Miss Linda Greenberg, 43 Palmer Square West, has joined Market Dynamics as a field director. She was formerly associated with R. H. Bruskin Associates and Gallup & Robinson Inc.

JOHN HOWARD NAMED
To New Cyanamid Position. John H. Howard, 256 Shady Brook Lane, has succeeded Edward H. Smythe as marketing director for the agricultural division of American Cyanamid Company. Mr. Smythe has become marketing director of the consumer products division.

Mr. Howard has served Cyanamid since 1955 as manager of the commercial development department of the agricultural division, assistant marketing director, sales manager and midwest regional manager. Prior to joining Cyanamid, he was assistant national sales manager for bulk products with Rockwood and Company of Brooklyn, a food processing manufacturer.

A graduate of the University of Kentucky, with a BS degree in business administration gained in 1936, Mr. Howard was an officer in the Navy during World War II and the Korean conflict. He has seven battle stars and a battle citation for service in the Atlantic and Pacific theatres.

TWO PROMOTED
By American Cyanamid. Two Lawrence Township residents, Frank O. Noel, 9 Temple Terrace, and Dr. Max J. Harvey, 91 Darrah Lane, have been promoted by American Cyanamid Company's agricultural division, Clifford D. Siverd, divisional general manager, made the announcement.

Mr. Noel, who joined the company in 1952, was former by animal industry products group manager, and has been appointed assistant marketing director. He is largely responsible for the expanded use of aureomycin chlortetracycline and other ingredients for formulated feeds, and animal health products for the prevention of livestock and poultry diseases.

Dr. Harvey, who will succeed Mr. Noel, was animal feed products supervisor. In his new position, he will be in charge of veterinary, animal health and animal feed products. He joined Cyanamid in 1950 after practicing veterinary medicine in Dodge City, Kansas, for five years.

FIVE VOLUMES READY
In Historical Series. The first five volumes in "The New Jersey Historical Series" has come off the D. Van Nostrand presses, with five more scheduled for publication on June 30.

Richard Huber and Wheaton J. Lane are editing the books, which will deal with early colonial settlements, the Revolution, the Civil War and the political, social and economic life of New Jersey's citizens over the past 300 years.

When it is complete, the series will have 26 hardbound volumes, all prepared with the general reader in mind. "A monumental publishing project — the product of a remarkable collaborative effort between public and private enterprise," said Governor Richard J. Hughes of the series. D. Van Nostrand has published the collection in cooperation with the State of New Jersey Tercentenary Commission.

The five volumes now available are: "New Jersey from Colony to State: 1609-1780, by Richard P. McCormick; "New Jersey and the Civil War," edited by Earl Schenck Miers; "New Jersey and the English Colonization of North America" by Wesley Frank Craven; "The Story of the Jersey Shore," by Harold F. Wilson and "Princeton and Rutgers; the Two Colonial Colleges of New Jersey" by George P. Schmidt.

Volumes to be published next month are: "Architecture in New Jersey," by Alan Gowans; "Elementary Education in New Jersey, A History," by Roscoe L. West; "New Jersey Proprietors and Their Lands," by John E. Pomfret; "The Early Dutch and Swedish Settlers of New Jersey," by Adrian C. Leiby and "The New Jersey Governor: A Study in Political Power" by Duane Lockard.

MATTEL MOVING EAST
Fulmer & Bowers Architects. The $1.5 million manufacturing plant in Holmdel Township for Mattel Inc. has been designed by Fulmer & Bowers, architects, of 341 Nassau Street. The world's largest toymaking firm has its headquarters in California, and will use the new plant for the manufacture and distribution of dolls and toys in the east.

Mattel will employ 1500 in the 260,000 square feet building, with expansion planned to 4000 employees. Lewis C. Bowers and Sons Inc. of Princeton expects to complete the facility by September 1.

NEW SECRETARY NAMED
For Insurance Fund. Mrs. Virginia S. Sweazey of Dayton has been promoted to secretary of the New Jersey Bankers Association insurance fund, after serving as assistant secretary since 1961. She joined the Association, whose office is at 499 North Harrison Street, in 1959.

In addition to her new position with the fund, Mrs. Sweazey was appointed secretary of the pension fund and the administration agency. The latter group provides a group creditor life insurance program to Association member banks.

ALL THE WAY WITH LBJ? Nothing is impossible in the political arena, but Christian Knoster (left) and Reiner Reuter, who are helping to convert the 4 Nassau Street building into apartments, agree that it is unlikely that anyone is going to stop President Johnson from being elected to a second term this November. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Do you think President Johnson can be defeated this November?

Where asked: Around town.

Christian Knoster Jr., Sergeantsville, carpenter: I don't think anybody will beat Johnson but he could be beaten. It will be a pretty close election. I'd like to see Lodge come back and tackle him. I feel he has as good a chance as any Republican, according to the primaries that have already been held.

Reiner Reuter, Flemington, mason: There is nothing that can't be done. But I don't think that Goldwater or any other Republican will beat him. I'd vote for Johnson myself; I think he's doing a good job right now.

Anthony Baumer, Neshanic, mechanic at J. Percy Van Vandt: I think he has a better chance than anyone else. Anyone that's already in the office has got a heck of a big start on everybody else. Rockefeller and Goldwater are too extreme. I feel this country has to go the middle of the road and use good common sense. Conditions change so fast: what was right one year may not be right this year — that's why I feel we must stay somewhere in the middle. Johnson's a politician or he wouldn't be in there but I feel he's the best man around.

Don Little, Fairless Hills, chef at Melwood Restaurant, Route 206: No, because I don't think the Republicans have got a man who can beat him — and I'm a Republican. Right now, it's 10 to 1 I'll vote for him myself. I think Johnson is in there plugging for the working man and that's as far as I want to see. What he's doing in foreign aid doesn't concern me. If it ever looked as if Scranton would get it over Johnson, I'd be out ringing doorbells for Johnson.

Miss Dale Crenshaw, 39 Red Hill Road, interior designer for Viking Furniture: No, I don't because I don't think the Republicans have a good enough candidate to win. I think their one chance to win is Henry Cabot Lodge, but I think he is too dedicated to his job in Viet Nam to come back and campaign. I think it is going to be the same for the Republicans as it was under Nixon; he didn't start campaigning effectively until it was too late.

John Ficken, Cherry Valley Road, gas station attendant, Turney Motors: I think there is a possibility, yes. Johnson's foreign policy, for example: he hasn't done a top-notch job there. Also, what will happen in Cuba and Viet Nam will have a lot to do with it. I don't think Johnson is a shoo-in by any means.

Richard "Ricky" Kidd, Lawrence Township, employee, grounds and buildings, Princeton University: It's a possibility but I doubt it very seriously. I think he's doing a good job following President Kennedy and trying to carry out Kennedy's program. And I feel he's fighting strong for a civil rights bill. He also cut our taxes and is campaigning to help the poverty-stricken areas. I feel he should win easily.

Mrs. Oliver Houghton, Wilson Road, housewife: I think he's doing a very good job and I think he'll be hard to beat—and I'm a Republican.

Joseph Giquinto, Hamilton Square, glazier apprentice: No, because I like the guy. He's a good man. He's doing a good job, looking out for the poverty-stricken areas. I just figure he's for the poor people.

Mrs. Ann Brown, 14 Oakland Road, housewife: Sure, he can be beaten — anybody can be beaten. But I don't think he'll lose. I just think he's a good man to have as president. That's my honest opinion: he'll get my vote.

Mrs. Shirley Parker, Cornwell Heights, Pa., secretary at University Engineering Quadrangle: Yes, he can. I don't feel he is as strong as Kennedy was. I think Cabot Lodge could beat him. It'll be close, though. I think Johnson is getting a lot of support onth is Applachia appeal which just happens to be before election time.

Mrs. S. G. Ellis, Alexander Road, housewife: I don't think so. I think people are a little frightened to make a change at this time. Under the present crises, I feel they'll want to stick with someone they're familiar with. I think he's doing a good job as president.

Mrs. Egil Scharin, Province Line Road, housewife: Yes, I'm afraid there is always that possibility but I hope he isn't. I think he is doing a good job. He's very forceful.

Roy Lewis, Woodsville, mechanic for J. Percy Van Zandt: No, I think the people are behind him. It seems today once a man get in office he stays in for two terms; if he is doing a good job, people don't want to change. I don't think the Republicans have anybody who can beat Johnson, anyway. They've got to come up with somebody better than Goldwater and Rockefeller and I don't know where they are going to get them.

Nick Sumoiers, Trenton, salesman for Prince Chevrolet: No, I feel there was too much public sentiment for the Kennedy administration and I think he's going to ride in on the coattail of sentiment. I think that most of the people were for President Kennedy. Of course, you never know what may happen during an election but I believe Johnson will get it, even though I am a Republican.

Wayne Blodgett, Sergantsville, manager of Jack & Jill Dairy, Nassau Street: No, be-

TO FEATURE DESIGNERS

At Benefit Fashion Show. Original costumes from the world's most famous designers, modeled by professionals, will be featured at "One World of Fashion," to be given next Wednesday at the Princeton Inn for the benefit of the Children's Day-Care Center of the Mercer County Child Guidance Center.

The show will begin with cocktails on the terrace at noon, followed by luncheon and the fashion show at 12 30 Tickets are available from Mrs. James K. Kuser, 15 Jill Lane, Trenton, 882-6456.

The day care center, established last September, provides for children who are educable, but who have problems of such depth that regular pubic or private school is out of the question. The center tries to help each child develop his potential capacity so that he can eventually return to school and normal classroom life.

Mrs. Robert L. Harwood is general chairman for the fashion show assisted by Mrs. Walter Borden, Mrs. W. R. Edwards, Mrs. Stephen Ehret, Mrs. Donald Henderson, Mrs. Charles Lawler, Mrs. Donald R Bryant, Mrs. James Kuser, Mrs. Warren Hulit, Mrs. Carl L Danbury and Mrs. Ansley J Coale Mrs. Edith Burke of "Fashion Coordinators" will give the commentary.

HERE'S THE FUTURE

Township Board Reports. A community of 40,000 persons (including the Borough), developed as an oasis in the east-coast Megalopolis, with single-family houses, an education-research foundation and lots and lots of open space.

This is the concept for the future developed by the Township Planning Board and enunciated in the Board's 1963 annual report, issued this week. Actually, the statement is a reaffirmation of the Board's position as outlined in its 1962 annual report.

Top priority, as the Board sees it, should go to acquiring land for open space, distributed as uniformly as possible throughout the Community (Township Planners conceive Princeton as one, and use the term "Community" to include the Borough.)

Specifically, for the Township, the Board urges Township citizens to give land and easements for open space and beyond that, "Any land which must be purchased should be bought by the Township to the limit of its ability to do so and even at the price of temporarily delaying development of other recreation facilities."

The Zoning Ordinance should be used as a tool to this end, so that remaining land in the Township is not developed away, but is built upon with the maximum provision for open space, the Board believes

The board wants the focus of Township development to be on single-family residential areas "of high-quality amenity and visual attractiveness". An "adequate range" of housing types should be available, but multi-family housing should be confined "to the Community's central area" — i.e., the Borough.

During 1963, the Board approved 10 preliminary plans of the 16 that were submitted, and 17 final plans of the 19 that were submitted, according to the Board's report.

HOSTESSES ANNOUNCED

For Open House Day. Mrs. Lawrence B. Holland, general chairman of "Open House in Princeton," has announced the Mt. Holyoke - Radcliffe alumnae who will serve as hostesses for Saturday's tour. Mrs. Joseph Lynch is chairman of hostesses.

Mrs. Robert Kuenne and Mrs. Jame Thorpe will be stationed at the historic "Dean's House" on the University campus, home of Dean and Mrs J. Douglas Brown. Mrs. David J Brodsky and Mrs. Frederick Petke will serve at the Beatty House, Vandeventer Avenue.

On duty at the home of Mr. and Mrs Kenneth Chorley, Rocky Hill - Blawenburg Road, are Mrs. John W. Fukey and Mrs. Roy Jackson. Mrs Joseph Miller and Mrs. Willard Waterous will serve at the home of Mr. and Mrs Robert Thompson, 533 Mercer Road.

Other assignments: Mrs. Parker Hayden and Mrs. Thomas Johnson, at home of Mr. and Mrs. George A Cluett Jr., Library Place; Mrs. Geraldine Flanagan and Mrs. Herrymon Maurer, home of Dr. and Mrs. David Rose, Galbreath Drive.

Mrs. Walter Kauzman add Mrs. William Cherry at home of the John Andresens, 25 Brookstone Drive; Mrs. Cyrus Cantrell and Miss Esther Todd at home of Miss Alison Frantz, and Mrs. Theodore Slossen Jr. and Mrs. Henry Zenzie at home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl White Jr., Bedens Brook Road.

SINGING THEIR WAY TO EUROPE: Rehearsing for the benefit concert this Saturday are, left to right, Julie McLean, Peter Sly, Margery Anderson and Peggy Smock. The High School choir soloists will appear at 8:30 in McCarter with their colleagues thanks to Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Club. The proceeds will help finance the choir's second European tour this summer.

MUSIC In Princeton

PHS CHOIR READY

For Benefit Concert. Songs from the Princeton High School Choir's repertory of works by Webern, Stravinsky, Brahms and Bach will be sung this Saturday at 8.30 in McCarter Theatre at the benefit concert sponsored by Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions club to raise money for the choir's European tour this summer.

Tickets are available from McCarter at $2, $3 and $4. Their cost is tax-deductible.

Thomas Hilbish, director of the choir, will also lead his singers in a group of Hungarian songs by Zoltan Kodaly. These melodies, adapted from Hungarian folk songs, will be sung at the Budapest Music Festival, a Festival which will honor the 83-year-old composer.

Joseph Kovacs, concernmaster for the Princeton Symphony Orchestra, is coaching the choir in Hungarian.

The choir will sing at Spoleto, Italy and Cheltenham, England, in addition to Budapest. It will be the second European tour for the choir, the first one having taken the group to Germany and France in 1962. Under Mr. Hilbish's direction, the Princeton High School Choir has acquired an international reputation among musicians for its work with contemporary and avant garde compositions.

JOINT CONCERT SET

At Trinity Sunday. The Miss Fine's School choir and the Lawrenceville School concert club choir will give a joint concert of sacred music this Sunday at 8 in Trinity Church. The Princeton Chamber Brass Ensemble will accompany the choirs, with Leon Du Bois playing the organ.

The directors are Virginia Griffith and Clyde Tipton. Soloists in Benjamin Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb will be Margaret Woodbridge, Sue Schnidkraut, Barry Lockwood and Bruce Demarest. In Ecclesiis by Giovanni Gabrieli will be sung by Miss Griffith and Gil Norton. The piece is taken from Sacrae Symphonie, Book II, written in 1615.

The program includes two other works by Gabrieli, as well as Two Intrades and Sonatas 27 and 28 by the 17th century composer, Johann Christoph Pezel.

MUSIC OUT OF DOORS

Band to Play Saturday. The second outdoor concert on the steps of Nassau Hall is scheduled for this Saturday at 2 by the University Concert Band. This will be the first weekend concert by the band in an effort to attract Princeton residents and their families.

Serious works, show tunes and novelty numbers will be included on the program. Dan Smith, band president, has received a number of favorable comments on previous concerts. The final presentation of the season will be next Wednesday, May 20, at 7 p.m.

PIANO PROGRAM SET

By Music Club. Janes Waters, Jane Strunsky and Frank Taplin will present piano works by Debussy, Schumann and Mozart next Wednesday, May 20, at the Taplin home, 55 Armour Road. The recital, the last of the season, wil begin at 8.30, preceded by a business meeting at 8.

Officers who have served during the past year are: Mrs. W. D. Hayes, president; and Frank A. Rechif, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Elmer A. Belcr and Mrs. Joseph Kovacs will be in charge of refreshments.

SONG RECITAL FRIDAY

For Two Baritones. Elliott Chapin and William Parker, Princeton undergraduates, will give a recital this Friday at 8.30 under the auspices of the Friends of Music. The free concert will be held in the McAlpin rehearsal room of the Woolworth Center.

The program will include baritone solos and duets by Schutz, Beethoven, Schubert and Wolf. William Johnson and David Brodsky will accompany Mr. Chapin and Mr. Parker respectively.

Tickets for the house tour are available at Hinkson's, Bamberger's and at the Princeton University Store. They may also be purchased at the tour houses.

Open house will be held from 12.30 to 5.20. Bus transportation will be available at the Battle Monument at 12:45 and 1.15 p.m. Tour proceeds will be allocated to the scholarship funds of the Mt. Holyoke and Radcliffe alumnae clubs of this area.

JOIN THE PARADE

Organizations Invited. All area organizations are invited to take part in the annual Memorial Day program and parade sponsored by Princeton Post 76, American Legion. The parade is scheduled for 11 a.m. Saturday, May 30.

Further information may be obtained from Don Richards, chairman, 231 Nassau Street, (924-0914).

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

By Vassar Club. The Vassar Club of Central New Jersey has granted scholarships to Lenore Gurin, Princeton Junction; Bonnie V. Ward, Belle Mead, both Princeton High School students, and to Mary Beth Winn, Trenton, a student at Central High School.

Mrs. Dean W. Meyerson, chairman of the scholarship committee, announced the winners at the spring meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Frederick P. Lawrence.

Three new board members have also been selected: Mrs. K. Evan Gray, scholarship ball chairman; Mrs. Howard A. Fox, vice-president, and Mrs. John Beer, secretary.

Assisting Mrs. Meyerson next year will be Mrs. John L. Kennedy for the Princeton area; Mrs. David Gayer, New Brunswick area; Mrs. Harry D. Nelson of Fairhaven and Mrs. Irwin J. Polk of Red Bank for the Jersey Shore area, and Mrs. Stuart G. Crane of Yardley, Trenton area.

Mrs. Robert Greiff, president, reported on the Spring Council meeting at Poughkeepsie. She described plans for the inaugural of Vassar's new president, Dr. Alan Simpson.

TUTORING AVAILABLE

At Country Day. Princeton Country Day School will reopen its summer tutoring school on June 15. Classes for grades three through eight will run through July 24.

Instruction by the regular faculty members will be held in English, mathematics and reading. Further information may be obtained by calling the school.

PEOPLE In The News

LIVELY NAMED

Director of New Center. Robert A. Lively, a member of Princeton's history department since 1955, has been appointed director of the new Center for Studies in 20th Century American Statecraft and Public Policy. The Center will encourage research and teaching in the development of American public policy, with emphasis on primary sources.

In conjunction with the announcement of the Center's plans, President Robert F. Goheen reported that Bernard M. Baruch is presenting his papers to the University library for permanent preservation. An extensive collection of documents on 20th century America is already available there.

Prof. Lively served on the faculty committee on expansion of the Woodrow Wilson School, and will continue to advise on plant and curriculum. An advisory committee will be appointed to assist him in "seeking a variety of ways to bring about a productive reaction between scholarly resources, and teaching and research."

David Lilienthal is the subject of his current work. Prof. Lively is a specialist in American economic history and government policy of the modern period.

Bogey Hereford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brice H. Hereford, Mountain Avenue, has won a reclining chair for his entry in Bamberger's "Mom's My Best Friend Contest."

Raymond H. Peters of Griggstown has received a 20-years' service pin and certificate from the Federal Government. He is a management analyst in the organization and policies division of Picatinny Arsenal, Dover.

Miss Gayle Snook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Snook of Plainsboro, was cited at the annual Honors Day convocation at the University of Vermont for having the highest academic standing in the freshman class in the School of Dental Hygiene. A graduate of Princeton High School, she won a PTA scholarship, the Gold Key Award and a New Jersey State scholarship.

Robert McAvenia

Norman Servis

Robert McAvenia, detective with the Borough Police Department, and Norman Servis, Township detective, have completed a five-week course at the State Bureau of Identification, West Trenton.

Detective McAvenia, who lives at 17 Fisher Avenue, has served 17 years with the Borough police, while Detective Servis, a resident of 367 Ewing Street, joined the Township police department in 1955. Both are graduates of Princeton High School and the municipal police training course given at Sea Girt.

The Rev. Walter D. Wagoner of 4 Hunter Road is serving again as chairman of the United Negro College Fund appeal in this area. The Rev. Mr. Wagoner executive director of the Fund for Theological Education, has headed the local drive since 1961. Area goal has been set at $65,000.

Dr. Paul K. Weimer has been named a Fellow of the Technical Staff at RCA laboratories for his outstanding achievements. He is well known for his basic contributions to the development of the image orthicon and vidicon camera tubes used in television, and for his recent pioneering work in thin-film technology.

FIVE YEARS AGO

May 14, 1959. Twist of the Week in early May five years ago: One of the Soviet Union's distinguished linguists, Professor Gregory Stepanov, had lectured here during the week. As fluent in French of German as he was in Russian, he had lectured in Spanish to an appreciative American audience on "Hispanic Studies in the Soviet Union."

Theaters in and around Princeton were providing a range of entertainment as wide as from "Al Capone" at the Playhouse to Giradoux's "Ondine" at Murray Theater. Other offerings in May 1959 included two ballets at McCarter "Iolanthe" by Princeton Savoyards, a melodrama, "The Child Stealer, or Life Among the Lowly," by the Community Players; "The Taming of the Shrew" by Lawrenceville's Periwig Club, "The Tunnel of Love" at the Bucks County Playhouse, and "Ballet in Latin" by the Aparri Dancers.

The University's "$53 Million for Princeton" campaign was just starting to gather momentum (and money) five years ago. The total collected up to that time was about $7 million —with more than $4 million contributed by Princeton's 48 trustees.

TEN YEARS AGO

May 12, 1954. A bond issue totaling $1,770,000, largest by more than $1,000 000 to be proposed in the Princeton community, was set to be placed before Borough voters later in May 1954 The funds were to be used "for major expansion of Princeton High School as well as for thorough renovation of the present 26-year-old building."

But it wasn't until October that the bond issue vote was held. The delay was an intentional one requested by mayor and council to allow for "full public discussion throughout the community." When the proposal did come to a vote that fall, it was approved by a better than three-to-one margin

New time tables issued by the Pennsylvania in May 1954 brought snarls from unhappy Princeton riders. Chief complaints: every train listed had some kind of notation in front of it weekday and Sunday trains were not printed separately; the odd-shaped tables were hard to fold for wallet-carrying Proposed solution: a do-it-yourself job with scissors and paste to produce a more legible, portable schedule.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

May 12, 1949. "You haven't lived," read one TOWN TOPICS advertisement, "until you have eaten lasagne to the music of Nick Stella, New Jersey's Pool of the Organ." Or really had heartburn either, was one comment

Formation of a retail merchants' association and the probable establishment of a credit bureau were in the planning stage 15 years ago One of the chief reasons for their need was the unwillingness of some Princetonians to part with their money — to pay bills.

"Princeton," one national credit bureau had been quoted as saying, "is the slowest-paying town in New Jersey." As evidence to support this unenviable distinction, one merchant commented: "I could retire today on the amount in uncolectable accounts on my books over the past 30 years."

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Opera Group To Perform. The new officers of B'nai B'rith Women will be installed at 8 30 p.m., next Wednesday. Mrs. Daniel Mager succeeds Mrs. Benedict Kingsley as president.

Entertainment will be provided by the Princeton Opera Association, whose members will sing selections from Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte" and Menotti's "The Old Man and the Thief." Suzanne Wever is narrator.

Performers include Mary Eckroyd, Ruth Mattern, Woodward Waesch, Robert Hartman, Jamison Gill, Virginia Cole, Noreen Barnes and Mary Lynne Bird. Louise Rogers will accompany on the piano.

FORUM PLANS STRATEGY

For '64 Campaign. The Princeton Township Democratic Forum will unveil on Tuesday its "Battle Plan for the '64 Campaign," according to Simon Marcson, chairman. The session begins at 8 30 p.m. at the Community Park School.

Harold Mantell of the executive committee and Mr. Marcson will offer a timetable for explaining the Forum's position on local, state and national issues. New officers will also be elected.

"Right up to election eve," Mr Marcson said, "we intend to make the Forum's position known through a series of statements and reports on the issues which directly affect Township residents.

"But we Township residents cannot restrict ourselves to doorstep problems. We must seek to relate these problems to the larger issues which impinge on our lives."

FORRESTAL TOUR SET

SPORTS In Princeton

IT COULD HAPPEN HERE

PRINCETON, June 12 — The championship of the Ivy Lacrosse league will be determined tomorrow when Yale and Princeton meet on Campbell Field before a commencement weekend crowd that will run upwords of 7,000. In addition to alumni on hand for their class reunions, hundreds of spectators interested in the sport are expected for the game, which last spring replaced baseball as the main athletic event on the traditional June weekead and proved an immediate success.

While no newspaper in the present decade is likely to carry such a story on its sports pages, it required only a look at the respective crowds watching the baseball and lacrosse games Saturday to realize that one is steadily declining in popularity and the other is attracting new fans every spring. Today, the thought of lacrosse replacing baseball as the commencement game is little more than a passing fancy, but if each sport continues to go in the direction it is currently taking, there may be sufficient reason for making the move in another ten years.

On Clarke Field, east of Palmer Stadium, a slim crowd of 200 watched mediocre Yale and Princeton baseball teams — both well below the .500 mark for their season's efforts — compete to see which will escape the Eastern League's cellar — tenth place. On adjacent Campbell Field, two sizeable sets of bleachers on opposite sides of the playing area were overflowing with lacrosse fans, who must have outnumbered the baseball-watchers seven or eight to one.

College baseball — certainly at Princeton and to a great degree within the entire Ivy League — has been in a state of decline for a decade or more. The reasons are numerous; they range from the total lack of a similarity between the game as it is played at the college level and the ubiquitous TV screen bringing major league ball into the home six days a week, to the total lack of interest on the colleges' part in recruiting a few good ball players.

If Princeton is dominant in tennis, basketball and lacrosse; if the Tigers wind up in first division in Ivy football more often than not, it is because the coaches and alumni work together — in competition with other coaches and alumni of other colleges doing exactly the same thing — to see that the foundation for a good team is on the campus every year. It's an odds on bet that no one representing Princeton has talked baseball to a high school athlete in years. If any nne has, his efforts obviously have not been crowned with success.

The last standout baseball player to come to Princeton was Dave Sisler, who was attracted — logically enough — by the University's fine School of Engineering. It has been 11 years since the Tigers won a league title, and there isn't a shred of evidence to say that they will make a run for first place in the next 11.

The contrast between the the spectator appeal of college baseball and lacrosse was rarely more apparent than it was here last Saturday. College baseball is slow, and the lack of pace only serves to accentuate the mistakes and misplays when they occur. Lacrosse on the other hand — like hockey and football — is so fluid and action-filled that the routine errors and omissions are rarely visible to the average spectator.

Incidents in Saturday's parallel action provide just such an example. In the fourth inning, a Yale run scored because the Princeton left fielder carelessly lobbed the throw-in on a short single to second base. The Eli runner, on second when the hit was made, had been held at third and only crossed the plate because the throw went lazily to second instead of to the heart of the infield. As matters turned out, he would not otherwise have scored, and when Princeton's ninth-inning rally fell short by one run, that run made the difference.

At the same time in the lacrosse game, Yale was erasing a 7-4 halftime deficit to draw even. Undoubtedly, a missed defensive assignment by Princeton here and there aided the Eli scoring, but the steady pace of the action helped gloss over the errors and the calibre of play by the two lacrosse teams was much higher.

It would take considerable digging to reveal when a Princeton baseball player was last named to the all-league team. In contrast, the Tigers invariably are well represented in all-Ivy lacrosse selections and more than occasionally dent the all-American listings.

Because a major change in athletic scheduling would be involved — lacrosse teams disband when examinations begin, whereas baseball teams traditionally have been a part of commencement programs for the better part of a century — there is no immediate likelihood of a June switch. No one, however, can deny the steady ascendancy of lacrosse in popular fancy, and the day may come when its appeal as the climactic event of a spring season can no longer be denied.

DECISION AT HAND

In Ivy Lacrosse. Yale's unpredictable lacrosse team, which came within a goal of upsetting Princeton Saturday, holds the key to the Ivy League championship. Presuming the Tigers can maintain their long supremacy over Dartmouth (one loss in the 11-game rivalry), it will take a Harvard defeat by the Elis to give the Orange and Black its eighth straight title.

Determination to pin a loss on their tormentors gave the Bulldogs tremendous impetus Saturday, and they bounced back from a 9-4 deficit to make a real melodrama of the final quarter. They took a 3-1 lead in the first quarter, fell victim to a six-goal surge by Princeton in the second period, to trail 7-4 at the half, and then dropped further behind as the home team scored twice more soon after play resumed.

The Yale surge then gradually brought the game back on an even keel until the Elis tied the score at 10-all. Deadlocks of 11-11 and 12-12 followed, the latter occurring at 8:58 of the final quarter and lasting for almost six minutes.

Defensive difficulties, a Princeton problem all spring, plagues the Tigers despite the efforts of the football trio of Cosmo Lacavazzi, Don Roth and Don MacKay. The contest had its rough edges, with numerous penalties, but the last-minute goal by Captain Jim Haws gave Ferris Thomsen's team its eighth straight over the Blue since a 6-3 loss in 1956.

CARNEGIE CUP TO YALE

Princeton a Distant Third. Belief that Yale and Harvard form the Big Two of rowing this Olympic year was confirmed Saturday when the Elis gave a masterful performance in winning the Carnegie Cup. Jim Rathschmidt, one-time Princetonian, watched his superbly-manned shell break the Carnegie Lake record for 2000 meters as it led Cornell across the line by half a length and Princeton by more than four.

The winning time of 5:53 was 1.4 seconds lower than the best previous time for the distance, set on the lake six years ago by another fine Yale crew. At Cambridge, Harvard was timed in 5:54.6 for the same distance as it defeated Navy and Penn, and the first meeting of the Elis and the Crimson this Saturday in the annual Sprint Championships will be watched with great interest.

All three crews were closely bunched at the start, with little to choose among them for the first half mile. However, Yale had a slim lead and gradually lengthened it. Cornell held on, fading briefly to a length behind but cutting this in two with a drive at the finish that took the boat all the way up to 38.

Princeton was never in contention during the last half of the race, finishing with a time of 6.11—only 1.5 seconds better than the Tiger jayvees. Of the five races held, Yale took all four in which it was entered. The Elis' third varsity was clocked in one second faster time than Princeton's first shell.

One of the big shows of the rowing season will be staged Saturday on Lake Quinsigammond at Worcester, Mass., where Cornell will defend the sprint title it won last year. The Ithacans impressed here Saturday, and will give an increasingly good account of themselves as they progress after a late start.

At this point, however, Yale and Harvard are the top Olympic bets, with the first of three head-on confrontations between them taking place on Saturday. With a six-boat final set following morning trials, Princeton is expected to qualify. Any place higher than fourth for the Tigers will rank as a major surprise, in view of their inability to come within three lengths of Harvard, Yale and Cornell earlier this spring.

YALE BLANKED IN TENNIS

Elis Fail to Win a Set. In ten singles and five doubles matches Saturday, Princeton swept every set against Yale to record an unprecedented 15-0 triumph over the Elis. For purposes of the Eastern Association championship, which the Tigers have now wrapped up for the fourth straight year, the score was 9-0—identical with that recorded over Williams on Friday and Brown at Providence on Monday.

Captain Herb Fitzgibbon conquered Dennis Lynch, an Eli basketball player in the winter, 6-3, 6-2, and while other Tigers were carried into extra games, the visitors failed to win a set anywhere along the line. Of the 30 sets played, Seven were at love.

Matches with Penn, Cornell and Army remain on the 1964 schedule. Only the meeting with the cadets will be played here—on Saturday, May 23. The Princeton victory string now totals 43 over a four-year period.

BALL TEAM BEATEN, 4-3

Rally against Yale Fails. Having given away more to Yale than it should have in the early innings, Princeton baseball team had more to overcome than it could handle when a belated rally occurred in the ninth inning. The Elis took the contest on Clarke Field, 4 to 3, as the losers stranded the tieing run on third.

Gerry Skey yielded four runs, all of them earned, before departing in the last of the sixth. Emil Rosenberg worked the last three somewhat shakily but held the Blue scoreless.

Princeton scored twice in the ninth with one out on a single by Frank Biondi, a double by Wally Uhle and a single by Blake Stafford. Yale changed pitchers but Jack Singer singled to make it 4-3 and the

A Merriwell at Princeton

Frank Merriwell is a legendary Yale athlete whose exploits always managed to turn defeat into victory for the Elis at the last moment.

Princeton has no counterpart, but a handful of Tiger lacrosse players have lived up to the name in the last decade. Five times in the last ten years, Princeton has beaten Yale in lacrosse by one point — on a goal scored with less than a minute to play.

The margin is getting thinner, too. A year ago at New Haven, Ernie Dheber made it 7-6 for the Tigers with just six seconds left. Last week on Campbell Field, Captain Jim Haws scored to give Princeton a 13-12 victory with only four seconds to go.

runners advanced a base on a wild pitch.

The Elis changed pitchers again, and this did the trick. Two weak infield grounders produced one run and two outs, the game going into the books as Yale's 140 triumph in the series that is almost a century old.

The loss dropped the Tigers to a 4-10-1 mark for the season. They were scheduled to go to Penn Wednesday before facing Navy here Saturday at 2.30.

TRACK TEAM VICTOR

Over Penn at Philadelphia. An 81-68 victory over Penn was recorded Saturday by the track team, which won nine of 17 first places in the meet at Philadelphia.

The Tigers will go to New Haven Saturday for the annual Heptagonal Meet. Their dual season will end in Palmer Stadium the following weekend against Cornell.

PHS BATS ARE SILENT

As B.M.I. Wins, 7-1. It was pea shooters versus howitzers last week as Bordentown Military Institute shelled the Princeton High School baseball team into submission, 7 to 1. The losers collected just two hits off cadet hurler Bucky Walters.

If the battered Little Tigers, currently 1-6-1, are to salvage a few wins this season, the time to start is at hand. They will play the second of a five-game home stand on Friday at 3:45 against Hunterdon Central. Central is the one school coach Harry Zoll's players have defeated this spring.

On Monday at 3:45, Franklin will be in town for a return match with the Blue and White. The next day, same time, same Harris Field diamond, Notre Dame will provide the opposition.

The Little Tigers will start their home series well-rested. They were to play Freehold here on Friday but the game was cancelled when the red-faced Freehold officials discovered they were scheduled to meet another opponent the same afternoon.

Still Looking. There was a military precision to the way B.M.I. defeated PHS. It was quick, effortless and smooth. Thus, the victors continued their mastery over PHS, which has never beaten the Cadets during their series which started in 1948.

In the sixth inning, PHS scored its lone run to avert a shutout. Pinch-hitter Ron Montague got on base via an error and advanced to third on a sacrifice and another B.M.I. error. He scored when the pitcher dropped the ball during his windup for a balk.

The home team scored three runs in the fourth frame and two more in the next to put the game out of reach. Among B.M.I.'s ten hits were a homer and two doubles.

Third baseman Bill McQuade and Jim Case, PHS captain, accounted for the losers' two hits. Howard Rifkin was the losing pitcher. So moribund was the PHS attack that it would have been fitting if the Cadets had sounded taps for their rivals after the final out.

RUSSINOFF LEADS PHS

In Twin Tennis Triumphs. In winning two of three tennis matches last week, the Princeton High School netmen registered a 6-3 victory over Trenton High School and a 5-0 blanking of Long Branch.

AROUND THE LITTLE TIGER HORN: One of the pluses of the Princeton High School baseball squad this season has been the defensive play of its infield. From left are, Bill McQuade, 3b; Dave Muni, ss; Ken Ward, 2b; and Jimmy Case, 1b. All are lettermen with the exception of McQuade who is a sophomore. Case, team captain, led the Blue and White last year in hitting with a .339 average.

David Russinoff was impressive in both victories, winning his matches in straight sets. Against Trenton, he defeated Dennis Phillips, last year's winner of the Mercer County Tennis Tournament.

Teammates Robin Platten and Peter Dumpel also won their games. Dumpel was competing for the first time this season after being sidelined with a sprained ankle.

Earlier, PHS was stopped by Christain Brothers, 4-0. The victors were led by their number one player, Terry Brown.

Next week, matches will be played with Middleton, Lakewood, Red Bank High and Freehold.

ERC WINS IN SOFTBALL

'63 Champions Take Opener. Engineering Research Center, defending champion in the Business Softball League, won its first game in a gallop last week, trouncing Electro-Mechanical Research, 22 to 3. Other first-round victors were newcomer Hopewell Television, RCA and ETS.

Bob Easton hammered out five hits, including two homers, in six trips to the plate for ERC. Others with big days on opening day were Ed Paulson, 4 for 4; Roger Cole, and Dan Brobst, both 3 for 5. Don Musinski was the winning pitcher. For the losers, Ralph Demech hit a home run and Jim Kerlin was 2 for 3.

Jack Lucey pitched Hopewell Television to a 16-5 verdict over Princeton Hospital, aided by Ken Hoagland's homer and Al Dansbury's three hits in four at bats. Ed Riddick hit safely three times for the Hospital, with Al Ritardi getting a homer.

Bob Hughes' two home runs led RCA to a 9-5 triumph over Accelerator. Bill Wright's good defensive work aided the triumph, as did a four-bagger by Bill Reichert and three hit by Jim Clark. Barry Hibbs and Lee Leach hit well for the losers.

Jack Dilworth and "Bones" Gilbert held American Cyanamid to three hits as Educational Testing began with a 15-2 triumph. Bill DeBoskey and Paul Harmon hit a homer and a triple, respectively, for the victors, while Tony Greenwald was 2 for 2. Bill Biache was Cyanamid's losing pitcher.

For the man who has group life insurance

It's your good fortune to have this additional measure of financial security. Certainly it means extra peace of mind. But have you ever felt just a little confused by it all—group life insurance; Social Security; plus your own personal life insurance? For example, how much total family protection and retirement income does it add up to? Just about enough? Or does it fall short of the job it all has to do? Are there any serious gaps in your plans for financial security such as can occur after 65 when the protection under most group insurance plans ceases? You may have wondered too whether there would be enough funds to pay for college should you die before the children's education is complete.

The Man from Manufacturers has a practical measuring device that will help you answer these questions. It's called the Security Graph. Through it you can co-ordinate your group insurance with Social Security and personal insurance to get the maximum benefits from each. It will also expose any gaps and suggest a solution that will take the "hit and miss" out of future purchases of life insurance. Talk to the Man from Manufacturers today—you will like the way he does business.

TRACKMEN WIN AGAIN

Face Trenton Friday. The Princeton High School track team won its fifth dual meet in seven starts Friday when it overpowered visiting Pennington High School, 102-15. The losers earned 10 of their 15 points with first-place finishes in the high jump and pole vault.

This week, the competition will be stiffer. Friday at 3:30, the Little Tigers will travel to Trenton for a dual meet with the Tornadoes who are led by Elvin Bethea, a standout in the shot and discus. A strong Somerville squad will then invade Princeton on Monday for a meet scheduled to start at 3:45.

"Both schools will give us a lot of trouble," said PHS coach Gerry Groninger. "If we win one, it will probably be against Trenton."

Commenting on the lopsided Pennington victory, Groninger reported that while Pennington, which has had only about three years' experience in the sport, did not provide much competition there was a good deal of inter-squad competition.

Three eyebrow raisers were sophomore Vince Boccanfuso edging veteran Larry Mueller in the 100; Carl DeCavalcante winning the discus for the first time over teammate Andy Kully and Bart Bennett tieing Bill Aiken in the low hurdles.

Dead Heat. Both Aiken and Bennett, a sophomore, were clocked in 20.6, which matched Aiken's best time of the current season. Aiken's last-second lunge at the tape earned him the victory. Aiken also won the highs and finished second in the pole vault for 13 points.

Co-captain Art Brooks, another double winner, continued to excel in the 440 and broad jump. Art's first-place time of 53 seconds flat in the quarter was his best effort of the season by far, according to Groninger.

Jay Gallagher won the mile in 4.42 which represented his best time outdoors. He has posted a faster indoor mark. Carl Giese, who finished second to Gallagher in the mile, won the 880. Other firsts were captured by Mueller in the 220, Jim McKeever in the shot, and co-captain Jim Beachell in the javelin.

In the Jaycee Mercer County junior high meet held Saturday, Princeton's Tim Mount placed second in the eight-pound shot event with a 47'2" effort. PHS also finished second in the mile and javelin.

CRUCIAL GAME AHEAD

Hun vs. Pennington. The Hun School and Pennington Prep, both undefeated in the Penn-Jersey League, will clash Saturday at 2.30 at the Hun School diamond.

Hun sports publicist John Talbot commented, "It's pretty clear that whoever wins this one will go on to take the league title." Pennington (3-0) is the defending champion.

On Wednesday, Hun will be at Delbartoo for a return game against the only school that has defeated the Red and Black to date. It will be a non-league contest.

Hun warmed up for its big game with Pennington by edging a Trenton State jayvee team 4-3 and then losing, 7-4, three days later, to its old nemesis, Delbarton. The split left Hun with a 4-1 record.

Against Delbarton, Hun led 1-0 until the fourth inning. Then its defense collasped and the visitors scored five unearned runs on two hits. In that decisive fourth frame, Hun committed four errors. Two of them were dropped pop-ups which produced four runs.

In all, Hun committed six errors, gave up six walks and had only itself to blame for its first defeat. Charlie Guthridge drove in three of Hun's four runs. Chris Westover, Hun's second pitcher, was charged with the defeat. Starter Greg Ganung faced only one batter whom he walked before coach Sandy Bing made the change.

Best Game. Against Trenton State, Hun played perhaps its best game of the season. It committed only one error, made six hits and came from behind twice to win.

After Trenton had taken a 2-0 lead, Hun tied it in the sixth when third baseman Lonnie Kaplan singled home two runs. In the last inning, Hun erupted for two more runs to win after Trenton had regained the lead, 3-2, in its half.

The hero was Hun's Jeff Kirsch who drove home the tieing and winning runs, after Mike Miller's single and Ted Isaacson's ground rule double had put them in scoring position. Scott Page gave up only four hits and struck out six in going the route for Hun.

BOWLING NOTES

Key Shop Wins League. Winner of the second half of competition in the Princeton "B" League was The Key Shop, with 70 to its credit. In second place after the final games last week was Balestrieri, 68. Jugtown Del came in third with 64 wins, and Kase Kleaners ended up fourth with 58.

High one-game bowler last week was Mike Pinelli with a 218. Others: Val Ranalla, 216; Fred Procaccini, 213; Joe Tufano, 211; Jack Luccy, 209; Frank Maddalon, 201; and Bob Sculerati, Joe Baldino and Joe Procaccini, all 200's.

Nassau Del, with 68 wins, leads the Nassau League, and Thorne Pharmacy is second with 60. Tiger Garage, 58, and Cooper & Schafer, 56, are next.

Val Ranallo's 229 led the one-game high scores in the league last week. Others over 200 included: Frank Sannino, 224; Otto Olsen, 223; John

"CLEAN"

Gas heat is clean. Gas burns efficiently and completely. There is never any soot, smudge or odor. This means less housework and important savings in time and effort. Economical, too, as Public Service provides, free of charge, all service needed on the gas burning parts and controls of gas equipment.

The changeover to clean, quiet, dependable Gas heat usually takes less than 24 hours. And this is a good time of year to get set for next winter's icy blasts. Leader in the Princeton Three-Man Classic is Colonial Restaurant, 67½. Johnson Electric, 58½, is second, with Turney Motors, 52, third.

Joe Baldino rolled three games above the 200 mark to take scoring honors in the loop. His totals: 202, 212, 219—633. Others with high single games were. John Grey, 231 and 224; Bill Dumble, 220; Vic Wyszynski, 212, Mike Basile, 212.

Woolworth's, with 46 wins, holds the edge in the Princeton Business Women's League. Jefferson Plumbing is second with 44, Claridge Wine & Liquor, third with 40.

Two highest games in the women's league last week were rolled by Mary Meeker, a 175, and Marie Wiley, 174.

PRINCETON GOLFERS 5th In EIGA Tournament. Princeton's varsity golf team tied with Penn for fifth place in team competition at the Eastern Inter-collegiate Golf Association tournament Saturday at Springdale. Defending champions from Penn State took first place with a team total of 767, 26 strokes ahead of Princeton.

Tiger Captain Dick Griffith, one of two Princeton players to qualify for the individual matches, reached the semi-finals before being downed 8 and 6 by Steve Pembrook of Army on Monday.

WINNERS LISTED

At Springdale. Women golfers at Springdale Golf Club played a tombstone tournament last week. Winner for the 18-hole competition was Mrs. Curtis Mitchell, and Mrs. Hans Bauer was runner-up.

The nine-hole winner was Mrs. Paul Orr. Runner-up was Mrs. Archibald Sheeran.

YOUNG GOLFERS TO MEET

At Springdale. On Friday at 7:30 p.m. there will be an organization meeting for all junior members of the Springdale Golf Club. Plans for the season will be announced.

Among the events planned for the summer are a lesson program under the direction of Al Niederlitz, assistant professional at the club. Also, in addition to a special tournament season schedule for juniors, a Parent-Junior Tournament is set for May 24, with June 14 set aside as a rain date.

TOURNAMENT PROGRESSES

For President's Cup. All of the first round matches and four of the second round contests have been completed in the annual handicap tournament for the President's Cup at Springdale Golf Club. The remaining second round matches are scheduled for this weekend.

In first round contests, last week, Dick Liebler beat Bob Shillaber, 4 and 3; Charlie Smith defaulted to Harvey Emery, and Bill Sayen beat Moore Gates, 5 and 3. In second round competition, Elliott McVitty beat Alex Buck, 5 and 4; Eddie Donovan beat Bergie Bergesen, 5 and 4; Bill Wallace beat Lew Sarrett, 1 up after 20 holes; and Otto Nelson beat Norm Schuele, 5 and 4.

Tigers Keep Track Title

Scoring 93 points to 70 for second-place Rutgers, Princeton retained the New Jersey Collegiate Track championship Tuesday in a meet held in Palmer Stadium.

Seven of the eight first places in the field fell to Coach Pete Morgan's team, which scored in every event. Among the top performances were a leap of 6-8 in the high jump by Captain John Hartnett and a pair of 14-foot efforts in the pole vault by Dick Bolander and John Morse.

Other entries were Seton Hall, 36 points; Fairleigh-Dickinson, 24; Montclair State, 17; Jersey City State, 10; Trenton State, 3; St. Peter's, 2, and Upsala, 0.

PHS EARNS SPLIT

In One-run Contests. The Princeton High School baseball team continued this week to show an affinity for contests decided by one run. Tuesday afternoon it lost a 2-1 squeaker to visiting Steinert; the day before, it had shut out Ewing, 1-0, behind the four-hit pitching of Rick Vomacka. Thus far, half of the Little Tiger's ten outings this spring have been determined by one run, PHS coming out on the short end on four occasions.

Against Steinert, PHS batters rapped out six hits—one more than the Spartans collected—but the only damaging one was Paul Walstad's leadoff homer in the second inning. In the final inning, the losers threatened momentarily when they placed runners on first and second with no outs, but the next three batters went down in order.

The visitors scored the first run of the game in the top of the second on a single and some loose play by second baseman Ken Ward and centerfielder Paul Walstad. Both were charged with errors on an attempted pick-off play. Steinert scored its second and winning run in the third when Rich Giallella, a former PHS player, walked and rode home on a double.

Ron Pulling who went the first six innings was tagged with the defeat. Vomacka finished out the last round.

Letter Perfect. Perfection is hard to fault and there was very little wrong with the play and pitching of PHS against Ewing. While his teammates were playing errorless ball, Vomacka shut the door on the Blue Devils, allowing only four hits, striking out five and walking one. Ewing pitcher Lou Innocenzi was equally effective as he struck out seven and also yielded only four hits.

Both teams threatened to score on several occasions. PHS had men on base in three of the first four innings; Ewing had runners on in five of seven frames. The game's only run was scored in the fourth when Innocenzi walked PHS captain Jim Case with the bases loaded. The Blue and White had jammed the sacks on Jeff Lowe's single, a fielder's choice and Bill McQuade's bunt single.

News Of The CHURCHES

THE GANG SHOWS UP For "Young Life." Eighty-five Princeton teenagers turned up at the Lewis Cuyler's Edgehill Street home last week for a social time, laced with Christian teachings.

Members of the "Young Life" group, they have been meeting weekly in growing numbers at various homes since the fall of 1961. This has pleased some of the clergy, disturbed others.

"Young Life is a gutless substitute for Christianity," one clergyman says bitterly. "When they outgrow Young Life, they outgrow Jesus."

The Rev. Edward H. Morgan of Westerly Road Church feels differently. "I've known Young Life for at least 12 years. They reach a lot of teenagers who go to no church at all or who are indifferent church members. They present, in a rather unique way, what Christ can do for young people."

Danger Signal? Another clergyman, who wishes to be anonymous, says, "There are many very poor youth groups in the churches today. Princeton is a case in point. The growth of Young Life is a danger signal that the churches are not doing their job."

Young Life in Princeton draws teenagers from the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths. Its leaders are Rogers Carrington and his wife, Loy Ann. Young, attractive, full of vitality, they devote most of their waking hours to involvement in teenagers' griefs and triumphs.

"The main thrust is by being with teenagers all week. We are aware of the problems they are having . . . we take this knowledge and apply the New Testament to it," Mr. Carrington says.

The Rev. Francis Huntington of Trinity Parish comments, "The greatest single factor to Young Life is that Rogers Carrington gives full time. He goes to the high school, shows up on the fields . . . talk the Teens' language and so does his wife.

"He lives in their world. No other church worker I know has the time to do this. This is the point that I have been trying to make for years — if the churches want to do youth work, they have to put up the leadership."

Suspicion. Young Life made a slow start in Princeton. An early attempt collapsed in 1957. In the fall of 1961, Mr. Carrington, fresh from Princeton Seminary, tried in vain to get to know the high school football players. "They were too suspicious!" His first break came through the cross country coach, Winfield Niles. He became acquainted with the boys through officiating at meets.

At the same time, his wife Loy met a cheer leader, Ann Cooper, through a university student who had been in Young Life in Seattle. Ann introduced Loy to her friends around the school.

A handful of teenagers went to Philadelphia with the Carringtons in November to see a Young Life club in action. Among them were Arthur Harvey, Henry Schmidt, Ann Cooper and Mary Dee Libbey. From this visit came the first meeting in Princeton, held at Thanksgiving in the home of Barbara Brauer.

Thirty-three teenagers showed up. The program included group singing, folk songs by a former Young Lifer from Chicago and comments from Rogers. He explained that each week he would discuss what the Christian faith has to say about their concerns and problems as they grew to adult hood.

Membership Increases. The group grew, members of the football squad began to straggle in. Twenty teenagers went on a Young life weekend in the Poconos in December. By January, 60 teenagers came to meetings regularly, and by March 100 was not an uncommon sight. Among the early leaders were Gary Mount, John Hoyt, Jim Norris, Pris Rogers, Tina Barrie, Carol Morgan and Pam Hasenzahl.

Through Mrs. Jan Cicero at Miss Fine's School, the Carringtons met Lauri Rogers and Nancy Davison, who accompanied her on the Young Life trip to Colorado. They brought their friends to meetings, and last January 32 Miss Fine's students spent four days skiing in Killington, Vt. — and discussing Christian faith.

Adults have become involved in the group beyond their furthest dreams. Mothers have overcome the shock of hordes of teenagers in their living rooms and even enjoyed them.

The adult Young Life Committee, as it stands today, includes William Aiken, Wiliam Cranstoun, Lewis B. Cuyler, Dr. Ellwood Godfrey, Russell Mount, Starr Northrop, Robert Oliver, Robert Shaw, Arnold Strohkorb, Miles Truedell and Chandler Wentworth.

Discussion Groups Held. The youngsters not only show up for the Wednesday night meeting ("Bill Bradley'll be there this week!"), but they attend discussion groups — the girls after school and the boys on Saturdays.

"We talk about relationships — with their families, dating, their peers, ethical rights, their responsibility to each other . . . " Mr. Carrington says. "For instance, they tend not to wander out of their own cliques. The colored are all in one clique and the whites go in twos and threes. An unspoken tension is always present. We relate this to something of Christ — perhaps Christ and the Samaritan woman.

"We steer for unashamed openness — the courage to confront problems."

Mr. Carrington was drawn into Young Life when he was in high school. He went because he could meet his girl there. He dropped out as a sophomore and rejoined as a junior because his friends egged him into it. "It reminded me of my church background, but in a new way. It felt natural."

The appeal of Young Life, people say, is initially, the group. "Everybody's there." The social aspect changes after a while and the comment changes, "Well, the gang's there, but it's what Rog talks about."

Opinion. A new book, "Young Life," by Emile Gaillet, emeritus Stuart Professor of Christian Philosophy at Princeton Seminary, describes the Colorado summer camp program with warm endorsement.

A Princeton clergyman calls Young Life "an easy answer for people who don't want to wrestle with the terrific problems of today's world. It misses all the struggling with basic, complicated issues. It's a simple life, and I'm not sure that this is what Christ calls us to at this time."

Another minister said wryly, "A member of my church came back from one of their summer camps with a check list 'How To Tell If Your Minister Is a Christian.' "

A third said, "Their camp program is remarkable in its results. Many young people are really changed through Young Life."

And Mr. Carrington, who made the rounds of the clergy before he initiated "Young Life in Princeton," comments, "There's so much that can't be done if we're all in different camps."

TERCENTENARY RALLY: Final arrangements for the rally of New Jersey Presbyterians at Palmer Stadium this Sunday afternoon are being made by the planning committee. Seated, from left, are: the Rev. Clarence Brixey of Kingston Presbyterian; the Rev. Frank A. Pehrson, executive director; Dr. Arlo Duba of Westminster Choir College, general chairman; and the Rev. Dr. Hugh Miller, stated clerk of the New Jersey Synod; (standing, from left) the Rev. Dr. Carl Wolf of Cranbury, synod's national missions and the Rev. Dr. Allan Winn, synod moderator. Also serving are Staurt Carothers and Professor Ernest F. Johnson of First Church, and Dr. George Lynn of Westminster, music director.

OFFICERS ELECTED By United Church Women. Five women have been elected officers of the United Church Women of Princeton. Mrs. Bayard Jordan Jr. of First Baptist and Mrs. Walter Jefferson, First Presbyterian, served as nominating committee.

Elected for three year terms are: Mrs. Leffert Loetscher, of First Presbyterian, secretary; Miss Shirley Johnson of Princeton Methodist, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Jones of Second Church, chairman of Christian social relations, and Mrs. Howard Thompson of Trinity, finance chairman Mrs. Wayne Birch of the Society of Friends was named to fill an unexpired term as chairman of Christian world relations.

The elections were held at the May Fellowship Day luncheon.

BULLETIN NOTES

New Book Praised. An enthusiastic review of "New Meanings For New Beings" by the Rev. Dr. Richard Luecke of Messiah Lutheran appears in the May 6 issue of the ecumenical weekly, "The Christian Century."

The reviewer terms the book "superbly useful for congregational and campus study groups. More provocatively than any other book I know, it lays side by side the language of contemporary man and the language of the gospel, inviting mutual exchange . . . " Dr. Luecke will lead a discussion of his book at 8 p.m. this Friday at the church.

World's Fair. Two bus trips to the New York World's Fair are being sponsored by the Synod Fund Committee of Hopewell Presbyterian Church. The dates are Saturday, June 6 and Wednesday, June 24. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Gerald Matthews, 466-0943 (June 6 trip) or Mrs. Margaret Layden 466-2167 (June 24 trip.)

Playwright Scheduled. William McCleary, author of "Hope For The Best," "Parlor Story," "Good Morning, Miss Dove," and other plays, will speak at the 11 a.m. service Sunday at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill and State Roads. His topic is "On Getting a Liberal Minister to Broadway."

Women's Day. Mrs. Ethel B. Dandridge, teacher and past president of the Women's Education Association of Virginia, will speak at the annual Women's Day service of First Baptist Church at 11 this Sunday. Mrs. Callie Garner is chairman and Mrs. Oneta Campbell, co-chairman. Mrs. Lozia Green is in charge of the social hour.

Holy Trinity. A Mother-Daughter luncheon and fashion show will be held at 12:30 this Saturday at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, 2730 Princeton Pike. Mrs. James Potts and Mrs. Gernard Draeger are co-chairmen, and Mrs. Edward Sabisky is fashion commentator.

A native Princetonian, she was the widow of Ralph S. Payton.

Surviving are her brother, Fred D. Warren of 215 Nassau Street, and a soo, Donald R. Payton of Milltown.

The service was held in New Brunswick, the Rev. Marvin S. Gerhart of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Milltown, officiating. Interment was in Van Liew Cemetery, North Brunswick.

Person To Person

Cory S. Kammler

It was interesting to read that the experts confirm that it doesn't always follow that a six-cylinder engine will use less gasoline than an eight-cylinder. Tests prove that often the larger engine may handle more weight with less strain and thereby use less fuel with less acceleration. Another effect of having the proper size engine for the type of car or truck is in actual wear and tear. The motor that seldom labors is naturally going to give longer service at lower maintenance costs. Then, too the better condition engine means higher trade-in value, so it is obvious that a larger engine may very well be an economy rather than an expense. But it takes a conscientious specialist to guide you to what is best for you, just as in all fields of endeavor. Our customers know the satisfaction of dealing where they get served just as we would want to be served . . . may we give you that same economy and satisfaction? Kammler Buick-Pontiac Co. PRIDE OF BUCKS COUNTY

IN GLENWOOD — OFF YARDLEY ROAD, ON PENN-VIEW TERRACE. One of the most beautiful old stone houses in the area on approximately two acres. Surrounded by gorgeous trees and flowering shrubs. The house is basically sound and is presently two apartments — one on each floor with separate entrances. Can be converted to a one-family without much difficulty or can remain a marvelous investment as is. Old random-width floor boards, many fireplaces, new aluminum storms and screens, two fine kitchens and lovely large rooms. Large porch with columns overlooks woods and canal. A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

For a wise investor or the executive with a large family. Ten minutes to the PRR or the Reading make New York or Phila. an easy commute. Guest house can be sold with the house for the right price. Built in 1737 and was once used by Washington and his troops as a look-out. An additional lot available. The asking price belies the value of this mansion as you will surely see upon inspection. Golfers and Gardeners, take note! Among the many noteworthy attractions of this brand new listing is an honest-to-goodness Bent grass pitching green virtually guaranteed to turn a perservering resident pitcher and putter into an Arnold Palmer! A gardener's delight is the 2½ acres of lovely secluded land, bounded by post & rail fencing and a running brook, ranging from fairly formal in its around-the-house planting and flagstone terrace to cozily rustic, wildflowered and wooded.

The masonry house, smallish but readily expandible, happily lives up to the land. All on one floor, filled with tasteful touches, solidly built and in fine condition, it consists of foyer, enchanting living room with fireplace & dining area, appealing kitchen with breakfast nook, study, 2 good bedrooms, 2 tiled baths, laundry room & garage. Large glass windows throughout bring the delightful outside in (visually, that is; the windows are aluminum and weathertight!)
The 2-acre zoned Township area is quiet but convenient. The price is $41,500. The house is EXCLUSIVELY OURS, and we're happy about it!

HOUGHTON REAL ESTATE

Drive through the Braeburn area and you will see why it has always been in demand as one of the most attractive places to live in our town. The lovely tall trees, large lots and congeniality of neighborhood — plus convenience to schools and shopping — make it the number one area in the medium price range.

We are pleased to present this large ranch home in absolutely perfect condition. The main floor has a flagstone foyer, large living room, dining room, paneled family room with fireplace, outstanding electric kitchen, 14 x 22 screened porch, three double bedrooms, two full tile baths.

The entire lower floor is finished — a recreation room large enough to hold train tables, pool table, ping-pong, plus a comfortable seating area. The laundry is separate; the workshop-cellar area is also separate, and the storage room is shelved.

The entire house has been painted inside and out. The landscaping is complete and easily maintained. It includes more than a dozen varieties of fine trees. $17,500

For this and other fine HOUGHTON exclusive listings, call for an individual appointment.

PRE-REVOLUTIONARY COLONIAL

Rare Combination of Elegance & Charm

Picture yourself in this 200-year-old Colonial, restored with exquisite taste, in a 10-acre setting of blooming lilac, dogwood and blossoming fruit trees.

Gracious center halls with random-width floorboards upstairs & down; living room, den, and family room; oak-beamed ceiling features the dining room; modern wood-paneled kitchen; large luxurious tiled bath. Elegant antique woodwork, much with original brass hardware, and six fireplaces.

Plenty of room upstairs, with four bedrooms, ample closets, and a second full bath, with space for a third.

Add to this an excellent small barn, three-car garage; fenced swimming pool, flagstone patio; new roof; all in a delightful country setting with privacy and a spectacular view—all within five miles of Princeton. Ideal for small horse farm—more land available.

Can you resist it?

DO YOU HAVE ENOUGH FORESIGHT TO LIVE IN WESTWOOD SQUARE?

Foresight? Yes, it takes more than the average foresight to realize that Westwood Square will be the prestige address of Trenton within a year. We realize that the average family won't be able to visualize the outstanding community that will develop from these sample homes and empty lots. But we didn't build our homes for the average man.

We built them for the family that desires and deserves the finer things in life . . . the family that realizes the importance of living at a significant address . . .the family that won't compromise on their home.

These are the exceptional families . . . and we offer them exceptional homes. The two-story model, for example, has a "Leisure Room" . . . a single expanse of 42 spacious feet. That's right . . . 42 feet. For a limited time only, we offer the homes for $26,990.

Sample homes will be open Saturday and Sunday, 2-6 P.M. Westwood Drive North of Bear Tavern Road in Ewing Township. 883-3334.

Shown exclusively by Dean Realty, 25 Royal Oak Road, Trenton — TU 2-5881.

Don't All Builders Use A Sill Sealer?

We do — but we will let the others answer for themselves. A sill sealer, by the way, is a 4" wide strip of fiberglass insulation that goes between the top of the cinder block foundation wall and the bottom piece of lumber of the house frame. It prevents cold air from sneaking into your house.

Come to PRINCETON RIDGE in Rocky Hill and we will show you just where to look for our sill sealer. At the same time, walk through the 8 and 9 room model homes for the other new ideas that all add up to bona fide home value. The models on Washington Street are pretty just to look at, too.

STUART HILL . . . this is the year to build, and in these beautiful woods, off The Great Road, your two acres are waiting for the architect of your choice. Adjoining the new Stuart Country Day School, and close to the other new private schools now being built, this unusual residential community offers more, perhaps, than any other in the Princeton area. A few plots are available for building this year. Water, sewer, and all utilities already installed, of course.

CAPE COD . . . and on Province Line Road, too. If you have always dreamed of having your child go to the Johnson Park School, here is a charming 3 bedroom, 2 bath house on a beautiful half-acre in Princeton Township. $31,000

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . on one of the nice old streets in a neighboring village, here is a charming Colonial residence that offers a great deal to the discerning home seeker who has looked long and hard for what she needs. The large living room (13 x 28) has a fireplace, of course. There is a separate dining room and a large, modern kitchen with plenty of breakfast space. $27,500

NEED SPACE? . . . here is a 4 bedroom home, with large, bright, airy rooms, that will appeal to you who wish to settle in Princeton Borough. Unusually well-planned kitchen with large eating area. 2 baths and a powder room. Paneled family room. This fine residence is fully air-conditioned, and carpeted throughout. If good, solid comfort is what you want most, this is for you. $49,900

TWO ACRES . . . beautifully landscaped, with flowering trees that will always make Springtime more wonderful for you. This is a meticulously-built residence, with real plaster walls and many other details of construction to please the man of the house. Living room with two-way fireplace, paneled study, separate dining room, a dreamy kitchen with plenty of room for brunch on Sunday, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, 2-car garage. Air-conditioning already installed to make Summer more enjoyable. $45,000

LOVELY COLONIAL . . . with 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths. This is one of those imposing residences, down near the Lake, which are what make living in Princeton such a joy to fugitives from traffic. From the spacious, traditional center hall, the big living room with its nice fireplace, the cozy dining room, and upstairs through all five bedrooms, this beautiful home evokes the very spirit of home to all who visit it. $68,500

HARD OF HEARING

Do you have trouble understanding group conversation?

Do you hear but fail to understand?

Do you understand your minister?

Do you understand men's voices better than women's?

Have you been told that you have a nerve deafness that can't be helped?

Can you hear your telephone ring?

Does your wife or husband complain that you play the radio or television too loud?

Have you been told that hearing aids will not help you?

Do you now wear a hearing aid and find that you still do not hear and understand clearly?

If you answer YES to any of these questions there is a strong possibility that this situation can be corrected.

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

VACATION HOMES NOW FEATURE GOOD CONSTRUCTION

Electrical Heat Called "Very Practical"

There are some "goodies" in the newer crop of vacation homes:

Good design.

Good construction.

Good "all-weather adaptability" with electrical heating systems.

A builder cites the follwing reasons:

"Nowadays more of these vacation homes are being built NEAR HOME — often with an eventual plan for use as a retirement home.

"Since construction costs rise each year it's cheaper to build a basically good structure than to keep patching a lean-to and hope it will turn into a house!

"Electrical heat, too, has made a tremendous difference.

"Actual installation costs for complete home heating systems are relatively low to begin with . . . but more important, an electrical heating system can be expected to last the life of the house!

"Comfort, of course, is the keyword. Electricity gets on the job instantly the switch is flipped on."

Electricity for heating has another "plus" welcomed both by vacationers and retirees. No work! Flipping the switch is about the only exertion: "There's no storage problem, hence no re-ordering problem, and there are few or no moving parts to get out of order so chances are you'll never even have to dial a maintenance man."

HOUSE HUNTING: Tendencies and Trends

A house-hunting you will go?

Well if you're that mythical average couple, the statistics say you'll look at 20 houses before you decide on "yours."

It is also noted there is a growing trend toward total electrical home heating. The number of houses using electricity as fuel (in all parts of the United States) passed the million and a half mark last year.

"WHEN YOU'RE THE JANITOR"

"When you suddenly find you're the janitor you can wise up pretty fast. In fact in two years' time I've learned how to eliminate the job and live like a lady again."

Triumphant words from a lifelong apartment dweller who as a new home owner found herself battling a furnace in season to keep the drafts away and out of season to get it cleaned for next year.

"Well, instead of cleaning up that furnace next time around, I had it cleared out . . . clear out of the house.

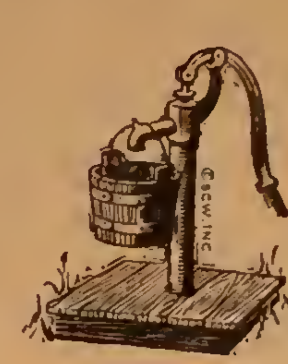
"Then we went ahead with some reconstructing, heavy duty wiring and an electrical baseboards heating system.

. ."Not only is this eletcrical heating showing up the other equipment for the antique method it was . . . but it's a clever country mile ahead of anything we had in the best apartment we lived in.

UP-DATE... ANTIQUE HEATING NOW!

©SCW, INC.

This elegant relic reminds us of bygone days. Be elegant, better your days ahead with total electric home heating.



"Though the last apartment was pretty comfortable . . . our home now is absolutely comfortable temperature-wise, always. You see apartment heat usually comes on at 7:00 a.m., goes off at 10:00 p.m. Now, in our own home, we can start it up at 5:00 a.m. if we want."

QUESTION BOX

Q. Does an electric heating system require a separate circuit?

A. Yes, because Medallion Home standards require individual circuits for house heating, and for each major appliance (range, washer, etc).
Spare circuits are also proved for future additions thus eliminating the need for supplementary work later on.

Q. Where are electrical baseboards placed? Bordering the room?

A. As a rule they're strategically placed at several locations in a large room but not bordering it.

Q. Why is insulation stressed for electric houses and what does "R" as a measurement mean?

A. To answer the first part first: the better the insulation the more efficiently heat is used. The electrical heating industry set a policy at the outset to make the quality of home construction assure the fullest possible utilization of electrical heat.
As for the "R." It is a far more precised measurement for insulation than inches. "R" means "installed-resistances."

Q. What's the connection between electrical heating and allergy relief?

A. A frequent question!

Nobody has ever claimed electrical heating cures allergies.

The controlled environment, however, a statement published here earlier states: "is undoubtedly of benefit to some types of allergy. Sufferers from thermal allergies may find relief in the eveness of the heat. Other allergy sufferers may find relief in the clean environment achievable with electrical heating."
